Business awards launched yet again

BUSINESSES across the Chase are being urged to get their nominations in for a prestigious award.

Aidan Burley MP is encouraging firms to get involved in the Cannock Chase Business Awards.

The awards were held for the first time in 2012 and saw more than 90 nominations, together with excellent feedback.

Mr Burley has again teamed up with organiser Steve Mallows, from thebestofcannock, to recognise and reward the work and success of local businesses.

Applications

The awards are open to any company located within the Cannock Chase area. There are 11 categories which are open to businesses of all types and sizes including an award to recognise local charities.

Businesses can enter for one or more award and members of the public can also nominate a business. Applications can be submitted online at www.cannockchasebusinesawards.co.uk, with winners decided by a panel of judges.

Mr Burley said: "I am thrilled to announce the launch of this year's Cannock Chase Business Awards."

Have a say on changes

MAJOR changes could be made to Rugeley, including upgrading parks and redesigning key junctions, under new plans.

Staffordshire County Council has earmarked £500,000 for improvements at Horse Fair and Wharf Road from the railway station to the town.

Residents and businesses are being given the chance to have their say on the developments. Suggestions can be e-mailed to rugeleypublicrealm@staffordshire.gov.uk

Fair compensation pledge over high speed rail blight

Transport secretary Patrick McLoughlin at Hednesford rail station during a visit to the region on Monday

PEOPLE whose homes are blighted by the planned high speed rail line will be treated 'fairly', the Transport Secretary has pledged.

Patrick McLoughlin, the Government's most senior transport minister, was on a visit to the county to see where £30 million will be spent electrifying the Chase Line by December 2017.

He was at Hednesford railway station on Monday, where he was greeted by Chase MP Aidan Burley. Stafford Borough Council and Lichfield District Council have formally opposed HS2 but are controlled by Mr McLoughlin's party, the Conservatives. The planned route will cut through swathes of Staffordshire countryside.

Upset

The councils are concerned about the effect HS2 will have on the landscape, including how it will cut the car park of Staffordshire County Showground in half and slice through farm land and blight people's homes.

Mr McLoughlin said: "I fully accept you don't do a major infrastructure project of this nature without some people being upset by it.

"What we have to do is get a compensation system to treat them fairly and we will go out to consultation on that."

Mr McLoughlin also confirmed that the scheme to electrify the Chase Line will begin at the end of the year as work takes place on three bridges.

The project will be finished by December 2017 and will mean quicker trains, new track and improved signalling.

BALLOON LANDING SETS PULSE RACING

MOTORISTS and bystanders watched in disbelief as a hot-air balloon rapidly plummeted from the sky before making an emergency landing in a farmer's field in Cannock.

The pilot and all 16 passengers on board were unhurt. Motorists rushed to the scene on Tuesday as it looked as though the balloon might crash land onto the A4601 Wolverhampton Road at Wedges Mills.

by Marion Brennan

Instead experienced pilot Andy Rawson navigated a landing in a field behind Waterside Business Centre, next to Saredon Brook, just after 9pm after aborting an earlier attempt near Otherton Airfield at Pillaton.

The balloon had taken off at 7.50pm from Shugborough Hall and reached a height of 4,500ft. It was estimated it would end up near Penkridge, given the right weather conditions. But a stiff breeze took the balloon towards Cannock.

Breeze

Mr Rawson, 61-year-old boss of balloon flight company Wickers World, said the forecasters got it wrong.

"It was a sea breeze from Liverpool that came down the Cheshire Gap but was only meant to reach as far as Stafford. We were travelling too fast to make the first landing and the field at Cannock was our last chance before heading out towards Cheslyn Hay, a built up area.

"I was worried we might miss the field. There are no brakes and no steering wheel.

"We were travelling at 15 knots, or 17mph, when we landed which is maybe a bit fast for first-time passengers but they loved it – especially the last 15 minutes."

The owner of the field was located and a bottle of Scotch presented as a gesture of goodwill.

Mr Rawson, whose family business is based in Great Haywood, near Stafford, said they could never predict where a flight would end up.

"The balloon goes where the wind takes it, we just have to be prepared for any eventuality," he said.

"I've been flying for 30 years and I could land it anywhere if I needed to.

"It may have looked dramatic but it was just a routine landing," he added.

The incident was witnessed by several motorists who pulled over on to the side of the road as the balloon descended before rushing to the closest vantage point, beside Pulse Electrical Wholesale Ltd. The site was fenced off from the field by wire netting and the brook.

Businessman Robert Allsopp, 59, who was travelling from Cannock, had just filled up with fuel at the Shell station at Longford island.

He said: "It was surreal. It appeared out of nowhere, looking graceful and fascinating as hot-air balloons do, but at the same time you were aware that it was way too low over the A5 and seemed to be going quite fast.

"I got in my car and followed it. I pulled over on the Wolverhampton Road as I was sure it was going to land on the carriageway ahead but it came down between some trees in the field on the right instead. Everyone on board seemed happy enough.

The balloon on its side in a field at Cannock shortly after its landing

Thrill

"They seemed to enjoy the thrill of it."

Dan Bullock, aged 18, and Josh Bird, 16, from Chadsmoor, Cannock, also watched the landing. Mr Bullock said: "We were trying to video it but it all happened so fast. I thought the balloon was going to hit my car."

Students Aaron Wilshire, 16, Chloe Bryan, also 16, and Zac Smith, 17, from Cheslyn Hay, were at McDonald's on Longford island when the balloon appeared.

"I thought it was going to land on the A5," said Mr Smith. "Loads of cars were pulling up to watch it."

The passengers helped to fold up the deflated 350,000 cubic foot capacity balloon before being picked up in jeeps to be taken back to Shugborough.

Carnival capers as towns to celebrate

IT is carnival time across the Chase this week with thousands of people expected to take part in three separate events.

A Punch and Judy show will be on offer in Cannock Town Centre on Saturday alongside market stalls, ponies and fairground rides.

A procession will make its way from Cannock Park at 1.30pm, along the Ringway, around Queen Square and down Church Street. The event is put on by the Cannock Traders Association.

Norton Canes will host its second festival to mark the parish council's 25th anniversary.

Follow

It kicks off at 1.30pm with a carnival parade featuring children in fancy dress.

The route from the community centre will follow Burntwood Road, School Road and Norton East Road before returning via Brownhills Road. It will end with a party in the park from 5pm with local bands.

Meanwhile, Brereton Carnival makes its long-awaited return after 26-years.

Thousands of families are expected to turn up from 12-5pm on Saturday.

A procession of floats will set off from Hawkins Logistics Yard in Redbrook Lane and end up at Ravenhill Park.

Gipsy site objections

SOUTH Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has written to council chiefs urging them to reject plans for a gipsy caravan site.

Bill Watton hopes to put three caravans – containing two gipsy households – in the rear garden of his house in Long Lane, Newtown.

The proposal has sparked concerns and Mr Williamson has written to the council's chief executive Steve Winterflood with his objections.

New groups to improve patient care

FOUR new groups have been set up to improve patient care at Stafford and Cannock hospitals.

Carry on Clinics is looking at reducing clinic cancellations, Sick-Busters is looking at reducing staff sickness absence, Noise Police is looking into reducing noise on wards at night and The Zimmers is considering how to ensure better assessments for the dementia patients on site as part of a raft of measures at the hospital trust. Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust's improvement academy leader Alice Godridge said: "The programme is all about revolutionising our culture towards continuous improvement and capitalising on the energy and enthusiasm of staff.

"We already have 52 members of staff who have taken part and a growing faculty that will lead the way, seizing opportunities to continue to transform the provision of care in our Trust.

"We are looking forward to running another two cohorts this year.

Booking

Previous improvement programmes have claimed to have found savings of £69,000 for the trust whilst improving quality with projects including an improved booking process for imaging, medicines management, improved patient access to nuclear medicine and improving the patient environment in the breast care unit."

Director of quality and patient experience Julie Hendry said: "These projects have unquestionably improved patient care in our trust, and as an aside have saved money by getting things right for patients first time."

Trust willing to share the load in hospital bid

HEATH bosses in Walsall say they would be willing to work with their Wolverhampton counterparts towards a joint solution for improving Cannock Hospital.

Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust and Walsall NHS Trust have each submitted separate bids to take over the running of the hospital.

But Walsall chief executive Richard Kirby has said he would be willing to share responsibility if administrators feel it is the best option.

He said: "We have each got a clear view about what we could do and in Walsall, we think we have a good solution for the people of Cannock.

"Our understanding is that, depending on what the administrators want, the two trusts are prepared to talk to one another.

"If the administrators think a joint solution would be best, certainly we are prepared to work with Wolverhampton or other that may have bid.

"But we are both in the hands of the administrators in terms of what happens next."

Report

Wolverhampton's bid would also involve moving some of its services to Cannock and shuttling some of its patients there for non-emergency surgeries.

Walsall's tender would see none of the trust's services moved, but it would mean patients living in Cannock that undergo operations in Walsall would receive after-care at the Brunswick Road site.

The administrators have until July 31 to publish a draft report of their solution for making Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust, which also runs Stafford Hospital, financially and clinically viable.

A public consultation will then run from August 6 to October 1.

MP makes plea over restoring reputation

MP Jeremy Lefroy has issued a passionate plea for Stafford Hospital to be allowed to re-establish its battered reputation.

In a House of Commons debate last week, the Stafford MP said: "We long for the chance to show the country we provide the highest standards of care."

With Stafford and Cannock hospitals facing a £70 million downgrade, Mr Lefroy said any shake-up of services should reflect the concerns of the public.

Campaigners are calling for acute services including accident and emergency, maternity and intensive care to be retained.

The Tory MP said it was vital the results of the administration process reflected public opinion.

"The administration of Mid Staffordshire NHS Trust is a great chance for Monitor through the administrators to show they are listening to the concerns of my constituents," he said.

Fellow MPs Aidan Burley, Bill Cash and Gavin Williamson joined the debate.

Referring to the trust's long-term future, Stone MP Mr Cash said: "If they get it right, the NHS as a whole will benefit enormously."

Put shirt on Villa's Samantha

Hagley Park pupil Samantha Richards, aged 13, who has signed for Aston Villa

A TALENTED young Rugeley footballer has been snapped up by Aston Villa and has her sights set on representing her country.

Thirteen-year-old Samantha Richards was selected to play with the team's under-15 squad after spending three years trying to get into the Premier League club's 'centre of excellence' for youngsters.

The Hagley Park Academy pupil had to undergo four trials before she was accepted. Up to 40 girls try out each year, with just one or two usually being selected. Samantha, of Springhill Terrace, was among five girls from the latest intake to be chosen.

She has previously had spells with youth squads at Wolves, Hednesford Town and Stretton, based in Burton-upon-Trent.

Samantha will train twice during the week with matches on Saturdays. She eventually hopes to be scouted for England.

Knifeman given jail term over threats

A MAN seen making threats with a knife in Rugeley has been jailed for eight months.

Adrian Leighton waved the weapon in Bow Street and told a group of men to 'back off', Stafford Crown Court heard.

Police were called and Leighton was arrested. The knife was found in an alleyway, near to where he was standing, said Mr Paul Farrow, prosecuting.

The incident happened on November 27 last year.

Leighton, aged 21, of Southwell Estate, Eccleshall, admitted possessing a blade and using threatening words. He also pleaded guilty to assault and a separate offence of stealing a joint of meat from the Co-Op, in Eccleshall.

Cigarette

The court also heard how on July 18 Leighton attacked a man in Stafford.

Victim Joshua Brown was asked for a cigarette and then subjected to insults as he walked along Corporation Street. Leighton then confronted him and punched him to the face.

The court heard Mr Brown was later taken to hospital with head injuries, a swollen nose, cut lip and chipped tooth.

Death ruling on ex-miner

A MAN who worked at a Cannock coal mine for 24 years died from inhaling dust in the mines, an inquest heard.

Father-of-two Alexander Taylor died at his home in Thor Close, Chadsmoor, in March from heart and lung disease.

Mr Taylor developed pneumoconiosis and emphysema, having worked as a miner for 32 years – 24 years of that at Littleton Colliery in Huntington.

South Staffs coroner Andrew Haigh recorded a verdict of death by industrial disease.

Power supply cut

ALMOST 120,000 homes and businesses in Cannock, Rugeley and Lichfield were left without power after reports of an explosion at Rugeley Power station. Homes, shops and trains were hit just before 7.50pm on Friday. Power was lost for just under 10 minutes.

Families 'horrified' as killers jailed for life could walk free

by Alex Homer

THE families of Midland murder victims whose killers were locked up for life say they are 'horrified' that the monsters could be freed to walk the streets following a landmark legal ruling.

Angry relatives have demanded to know why their rights were being ignored after the European Court of Human Rights ruled that life can never mean life. It said removing the chance of release is a breach of human rights.

MP Aidan Burley blasted the ruling as 'sick and twisted' as it emerged Cannock Chase Murderer Raymond Morris is now considering a bid for freedom following the decision.

He said: "What about the victims' rights? Where are the rights of the people that have been murdered, and their families?"

Treatment

Murderers Jeremy Bamber, Douglas Vinter and Peter Moore were told by the European judges that their whole life sentences amounted to 'inhuman and degrading treatment' because they had no hope of release.

The ruling has sparked further outrage among critics of the court – despite reassurances that the decision did not amount to grounds for imminent release.

Gavin Williamson MP for South Staffordshire is calling for Britain to leave the European Convention of Human Rights.

There are fears a string of the country's most evil killers can hope of freedom as life will not mean life. These include sadistic killer Victor Miller.

The Wolverhampton warehouse assistant, then aged 32, abducted 14-year-old paper boy Stuart Gough on his round in Hagley village, and then murdered him in January 1988.

Killer Raymond Morris

Stuart's mother Jean said she was 'horrified' by the ruling.

Mrs Gough, now aged 69, said: "Where were Stuart's human rights? He lost his life and his rights. I hope the Government ignores this ruling."

Morris is serving life for the murder of seven-year-old Walsall girl Christine Darby in 1967.

He is also the prime suspect in the killings of schoolgirls Margaret Reynolds and Diane Tift found on Cannock Chase. All three were abducted, raped and murdered.

Plots of colour as gardens to open

KEEN gardeners are TO open up their plots to the public in South Staffordshire.

Linda Ravenall has been tending to her colourful displays ahead of the big day on July 18. She will raise funds for Cheslyn Hay & Great Wyrley Flower Club.

The 63-year-old grandmother said that without a funding boost, the flower club, which has been going for 41 years and meets at the Salem Methodist Church hall, in High Street, could be forced to close.

She said: "It's so important to keep these clubs going."

Mrs Ravenall, of 2 Cleves Crescent, Tudor Park, will also be offering refreshments. The garden will be open from 5pm. Entry is £2.

Meanwhile, Anne and David Smith are opening up their garden at 4 Dene Close, Penkridge as part of the National Garden Scheme.

It will open from 11am to 5pm on Sunday (July 14). It will also feature a plant sale and costs £3.

Money raised will be distributed to charities including Macmillan Cancer Support and Marie Curie Cancer Care. For more information call 01785 712580.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A RECYCLING centre in Smethwick is set ablaze by a Chinese lantern and our immediate response is to run around like headless chickens calling for a new law to ban such devices. For heaven's sake, we do not need any new laws. England has been passing laws for 1,000 years and the law against deliberately or recklessly starting fires is fully covered by the Criminal Damage Act. All we need is a prosecution or two to make the point that sending a naked flame aloft in a Chinese lantern is as reckless as lobbing a petrol bomb over your neighbour's fence.

"IT WOULD be too much to say that death does not frighten me, but I have no fear of the hereafter because I do not believe in it." From the last interview by the Nobel-winning scientist Christian de Duve, 95, whose death by legally-assisted suicide in Belgium was reported this week. He went out, according to his family, with "a smile and a goodbye."

AN INTERNET poll shows a big resurgence of "extreme retro" names from Victorian times. But we all grow old and one day today's young people, with names like Chardonnay, Sting, River and Waynetta, will become old people, living in homes where they will be cared for by young people called Mabel, Florence, Winifred and Stanley.

"THE Conservatives' high priest of enthusiasm." Boris Johnson, as described this week by political pundit Benedict Brogan.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

AS anyone in academia will tell you, there are two great reasons to become a teacher, namely July and August. The long, sunny, six-week holidays are a relic from the time when kids were needed to bring in the harvest and are a huge attraction for would-be teachers. No wonder that union leaders are enraged by the Government's Deregulation Bill which will allow head teachers, not local authorities, to set term times and holidays. But I doubt if they have much to worry about. Most heads, like most teachers, want long holidays and a quiet life. The last thing they desire is to be pinned up against the wall by angry parents complaining that they can't juggle family holidays to suit a changed term. The most likely outcome is that schools in the same area will quietly agree on the same holidays and that any head who tries to introduce radical new short terms will get a flurry of resignation notes from the staffroom.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

WHAT rocked me slightly on my heels in the school-term reports was the passing reference to how many state schools there are in the UK. Go on, have a guess. The answer is about 25,000. In the internet age when all the world's knowledge, languages and culture are a mouse-click away, isn't it extraordinary that we have no better means of educating children than dragooning them in batches of 30 through 14 years of lessons, at the end of which some can't even string a sentence together? There must be a better way.

Charity's urgent plea for new helpers

A CANNOCK charity that helps disabled people train their dogs to become helpers is urgently seeking new workers.

Dog A.I.D. is looking for fundraisers, volunteers and trustees to help it carry on supporting people in the district.

Sandra Fraser, chairman of the charity's trustees, said: "Whether you have lots of time to help a local charity that is entirely reliant on donations or a small amount of time, we need your help.

"We urgently need voluntary admin support on a regular basis, as well as people to organise fundraising events or take on challenges on our behalf.

"If you have less time then we are looking for people to collect stamps, fill up our collecting tins, buy gifts from our online shop and so much more."

The charity, which has its office on Arthur Street in Chadsmoor, was established in the 1990s.

Currently it has 37 fully-qualified dogs living with their disabled owners throughout the country.

Training takes between 18 months and two years, with both dog and owner receiving specialist education from a network of trainers.

Minister vows HS2 will prove vital despite cost

by Daniel Wainwright

HIGH speed rail will be a huge benefit to the region, despite concerns about the cost, the Transport Secretary has said.

However, Patrick McLoughlin MP admitted making the £42.6 billion HS2 scheme a reality was proving 'long and frustrating'.

He described the controversial project as a 'motorway for trains' and vowed affected residents would be fairly compensated in the long run. He said: "It all adds up to one of the biggest issues for me which is capacity. Hence why we need a new rail line.

"I gave the most up-to-date figures I had to Parliament which includes a £14bn contingency. It is expensive, yes, but one of the biggest issues around HS2 is providing more capacity.

"Intercity connections between our great cities are very important. HS2 is more a project for Birmingham and northwards and it's very important for the future of the country."

Rejected

Many have hit out at the Government after it emerged three quarters of claims for compensation which have been processed had been rejected.

Mr McLoughlin a former Cannock councillor, who went to St Joseph's Primary, just up the road from Hednesford rail station, said: "You could say that High Speed 2 is a motorway for trains. It does affect people's properties. We have to make sure we do the right thing.

"Is it too long and frustrating? Yes it is. But I'd rather live in a country where people can challenge the government than one where they cannot."

Mr McLoughlin also confirmed the scheme to electrify the Chase Line would begin at the end of the year as work takes place on three bridges.

He said rebuilding work would commence between the end of 2013 and February next year on bridges in Hednesford and Essington.

MP renews old school ties on visit

Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin visits his old school Cardinal Griffin School, Cannock with, from left, Aidan Burley MP, pupils Tony Dominic and Aidan Marsden and headteacher Michael Burrowes

TRANSPORT secretary Patrick McLoughlin took a trip down memory lane as he returned to his old school in Cannock.

The minister attended Cardinal Griffin High School in the early 1970s before working underground at the nearby Littleton Colliery.

He met staff and pupils during a one-and-a-half hour visit on Monday alongside Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

Mr McLoughlin, suitably dressed with his own school tie, told pupils that it was a visit to Westminster to see Cannock MP Patrick Cormack that inspired him to go into politics.

He said: "We were invited down to the House of Commons when I was about 14 or 15. I turned to my friend, who later was my best man at my wedding, and said 'one day I will come back here as a member of parliament'. His words of advice to me were that I should keep it a secret."

The Derbyshire Dales MP said he was not a high academic achiever at school but told pupils that ambition and determination were key to success.

"You have to keep going through the setbacks. You can achieve what you want if you persevere and have the determination."

During the visit he presented 17-year-old Aidan Marsden with the school's annual politics prize which has been renamed the Patrick McLoughlin trophy.

Mr McLoughlin visited the school grounds and was shown the new artificial sports pitch and observatories.

He also visited Cannock-based charity New Life which helps disabled children and their families.

Creature comforts at holiday pets club

CHILDREN can enjoy creature comforts as they interact with a number of animals this summer.

Parents in Cannock can take their young ones along to fun, free Kids Holiday Pet Club at Pets At Home, where they can learn all about the in-store animals.

'Furry Friends' workshops will focus on rabbits, guinea pigs, hamsters, rats and gerbils. 'Scales and Fins' will teach the children all about the fascinating world of fish, reptiles and wildlife.

Knowledge

Joanne Stephens, manager at the Orbital Way store said: "All the colleagues at Pets at Home look forward to Kids' Holiday Pet Club as it's a chance to showcase our knowledge and a great opportunity for children to have fun and learn.

"Last year's workshops were extremely popular and we've already had lots of enquiries, so we're expecting them to be very busy."

All children who complete the workshops will go home with a certificate and an activity book with in-store trails, puzzles, stickers and many more activities, all free of charge.

Family fair in aid of school

SMALL businesses from Cannock and the surrounding areas will be displaying their wares at a family fair to raise money for a primary school this weekend.

The Fantastic Family Fun & Fair will take place at The White Eagle Club on Riverway, in Stafford, on Sunday (July 14) from 12pm to 4pm.

Money raised will go to Marshlands Special School in Wildwood.

Alongside the various stalls, there will be a cake competition, a bouncy castle, face-painting and a treasure hunt hog roast, as well as a performance from dance troupe Dance Fusion at 1pm.

Collision on M6

TWO vehicles collided on the M6 at Gailey. The speed limit was reduced to 40mph and the vehicles were moved to the hard shoulder following the crash last Friday just before 8am. It happened between junctions 12 and 11a southbound and involved a Mercedes and a van.

Games aim to prolong the legacy of Olympics

COUNCIL chiefs in Cannock Chase are trying to prolong the impact of the Olympic games by encouraging more sporting events in the area.

Cannock Chase Council has launched the Chase Community Games which provides a 'toolkit' to supply groups and residents with information and access to equipment. The event kit comprises of a stage, gazebos and flags which can be hired for free.

An events calendar has also been developed to help the community promote their activities and to inform locals about what they can access in their local area.

Project

The council has teamed up for Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust (WLCT) for the project.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, the council's leader of culture and sport, said: "This initiative continues to offer a great way of bringing people together to try out different sports and make healthier lifestyle choices".

For more details about the scheme, visit Chase Community Games at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/chasegames

PSS, founded more than 30 years ago, says more people are needed to open their homes up to vulnerable people.

PSS specialises in providing support to vulnerable adults and young people leaving care and living at home. Annie Kilroy, PSS people and culture business partner, said: "Our carers come from all walks of life."

A CANNOCK Chase councillor has resigned from the Liberal Democrat party and will stand in next year's elections as an independent.

Mick Grocott announced his intention at last Wednesday's meeting of the district council. He represents the Western Springs ward in Rugeley.

Owner fined after dog attack on woman and pet

Ian Jaffray outside the court

A MAN whose dog bit a woman's nose and attacked her own dog has been fined more than £1,800.

Ian Jaffray, of The Lindens, Rugeley, appeared before magistrates in Cannock last Thursday. His 13-month-old Staffordshire Bull Terrier puppy Haze attacked a neighbour and her pet outside his home in May.

The dog was off its lead at the time of the attack outside the flats off Armitage Road, the court heard.

Neighbour Katie Lake attempted to pull Haze off her dog Pepper, when it bit her nose causing it to bleed. The victim went to hospital and Pepper had to be taken to the vets, leaving a bill of more than £470. Jaffray pleaded guilty to allowing a dog to be dangerously out of control in a public place and cause injury and to a charge of not keeping proper control of a dog.

Prosecuting, John Peel told the court Jaffray said it was in fact when the other dog barked that Haze 'grabbed it by the leg'.

Behave

"He said he joined the lady in pulling the dog off and saw the lady's nose bleeding," said Mr Peel. He admitted he didn't have the dog under control, as he didn't have it on a lead."

In Jaffray's defence, solicitor Makhan Shoker told magistrates that while his client had taken full responsibility for the incident, Haze was still a puppy and must learn how to behave.

"My client takes full responsibility," Mr Shoker said. "While the dog is insured and registered, I think my client realises now that does do dogs need training, but the owners need to know their responsibilities too."

"My client's remorse is heartfelt and his regret is genuine."

Chairman of the bench Martin Jupp fined Jaffray £170 for not having control of the dog.

He was also ordered to pay £1,547 in compensation, £85 in court costs and a £20 victim surcharge. Jaffray was also ordered to keep his dog on a lead in a public place.

Coroner warns of nappy bag danger after baby suffocates

A CORONER has issued an urgent warning following the tragic death of a baby in Hednesford. Andrew Haigh, coroner for South Staffordshire, now plans to lobby government ministers over nappy sack deaths

It comes after the death of seven-month-old Maison Amison. He suffocated after pulling the nappy disposal bag through the railings of his cot.

Tragic Maison Amison

Mr Haigh said lessons needed to be learned from the death, adding the dangers were not widely known. He said he was considering writing to the Government over the prominence of warning signs and said he was 'alarmed' so-called 'nappy sack deaths' were not uncommon.

Maison died on March 7. His mother Beth had given him his bottle at 7.30am at the family home in Lomax Road. Less than two hours later she found him lying on his back with a plastic nappy sack across his face.

Despite efforts to revive him he could not be saved.

Spindles

The inquest heard Maison slept in a traditional wooden cot with spindles and would have been able to fit his hand between the gaps to reach the nappy bags.

Pathologist Dr Philip Cox, of Birmingham Women's Hospital, who carried out the post mortem, said: "Myself and a colleague have between us come across three previous cases. The sacks are light and very thin and easy to inhale."

Recording an accidental death verdict, Mr Haigh said: "I am alarmed to find there have been other cases of nappy sack deaths.

"I will consider sending a report to the relevant government department if I find that warning signs are not prominent enough."

Homes plan submitted

A RESPITE care centre in Cannock could close with homes built in its place.

White Lodge in New Penkridge Road, is relocating, but staff will keep their jobs. However, under plans lodged with Cannock Chase District Council, the former cottage hospital building will be demolished to make way for three properties.

Proposals submitted by agent Sutton & Wilkinson state: "The building will shortly become redundant and as it is not suitable or economical to convert to other uses it has been decided to redevelop the site for residential."

The site is owned and managed by South Staffordshire & Shropshire Health Foundation Trust.

Former secretary holds key to 101 years

Ivy Griffiths celebrates her 101st birthday at Lakeview care Home with her great niece Louisa Perry, aged 46

IN THE year she was born, 1912, momentous events were taking place across the globe – explorer Captain Scott reached the South Pole, the character Tarzan first appeared in an American magazine and the Republic of China was declared.

The 'unsinkable' British-made ocean liner RMS Titanic sank after hitting an iceberg on her maiden voyage, with the loss of 1,517 lives – and Ivy Griffiths came into the world.

Ivy shared the year of her birth with British spy Kim Philby, dancing legend Gene Kelly, church leader Pope John Paul I and British MP Enoch Powell – and has outlived them all.

Surprised

Now into her second century, she enjoyed a special celebration for her 101st birthday.

Staff and residents at Lakeview Care Home in Great Wyrley surprised the popular pensioner with a party at the home, with tea and cakes.

Mrs Griffiths, who used to work as a secretary, received cards and presents, including a necklace from her family.

Activities co-ordinator at the home, Pat Houslin, said around 30 residents and staff gathered for the surprise party.

She said: "I think she really enjoyed it. She has a fantastic personality and is an absolute joy to know."

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

FORMER Cabinet minister Jack Straw says MPs should be given a £10,000-a-year pay rise in order to attract more candidates from working-class backgrounds.

He's not wrong. Talk to anyone living in one of the less affluent parts of the West Midlands and the message is always the same. People always say: "I'd really love to be an MP, I believe I have something to offer my constituents. But the thing is, I couldn't get by on 66 grand a year."

THE idea to give MPs a whacking great pay rise came not from the honourable members themselves, but from the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority, the body set up at a cost of £6.6 million to restore the public's confidence in MPs.

But given that the proposals from IPSA, already under fire over its own running costs, have so far only managed to stoke up the controversy about MP's salary, here is an alternative idea.

Why not do away with all the expensive independent bodies, and simply link MPs' pay to inflation, just like they do with the state pension?

Of course there will be a debate about which measure of inflation is used, but the answer to that is easy. Just go for the lowest one.

See? I've solved the problem already, and at a fraction of the millions of pounds spent on IPSA. Just send me a cheque in the post for, I dunno, £66,000 a year. That should cover it.

CONGRATULATIONS to Andy Murray on becoming the first Brit in 77 years to win Wimbledon. But can we now leave it at that?

While the patriot in me is pleased to see somebody from these fair islands win a major sporting event, I didn't like tennis last week, and I'm not going to pretend I like it this week.

I've always taken the view that tennis is a bit of a soft sport, with too many highly strung, temperamental types who throw tantrums the moment the going gets a bit tough. On the other hand, it brings a lot of pleasure to many people, and it is good they have something to celebrate.

There is something very unsportsmanlike, though, about the way some people just jump on the bandwagon of any particular sport the moment a big international competition comes along, particularly if somebody from this country does well at it.

It was the same with the Olympics last year. Who was interested in cycling before Bradley Wiggins' triumph in the Tour de France? How many people who deck their houses with red-and-white bunting at World Cup time will bother to turn out to local football grounds?

It will be interesting to see how many people caught up in the hysteria of Murray-mania will be paying such close attention to the US Open.

Announcing the opening of a new block

A prospectus for the technical college with lecturers in the background

Helping celebrate history of learning

The city's university is 21 years old but its history goes back much further, as TOM MASON finds out

THE University of Wolverhampton has taken a look back at its history over almost 200 years as part of the celebrations that led to it being granted university status 21 years ago.

Former and current students and lectures gathered at the City Campus' state-of-the-art Learning Centre, off Wulfruna Street, to mark the transition from a polytechnic.

Since first being established as the Wolverhampton Mechanics and Institute and Library in 1827, the school has gone through hundreds of changes and expansions and seen more than 200,000 undergraduates come through its doors.

The first big change came at the beginning of the 20th century when it took over the running of Dudley Teacher Training College and the Municipal School of Arts and Crafts.

It would then evolve into Wolverhampton and Staffordshire Technical College, where it would work closely with local industry to keep itself at the forefront of the latest technologies .

On June 17. 1992 it became the University of Wolverhampton, shedding of its polytechnic status and opened up it's doors to a more diverse range of subjects.

One person who saw it during some of its changes was 84-year-old Sheila Holgate-Wright, the university's oldest surviving graduate, who in 1944, aged 15 arrived at the technical college to study science.

She needed a job, preferably one in a laboratory, but to get there she decided to study physics, chemistry and mathematics at what was then the technical college.

"It's completely changed since I was here, none of these newer buildings existed just the main entrance – but it's nice being back," she said.

Sheila Holgate-Wright, one of the oldest living graduates with the Vice Chancellor, Professor Geoff Layer, left and Professor Mike Haynes Working in the day with local industry, she would spend just one day a week and most evenings studying at the college in order to attain her qualifications and a place in the history books as the first female metallurgy graduate the university had ever had.

Important

It was during her time in Wolverhampton that she met her late husband, Tony, who was born in Wolverhampton and taught in a number of local schools.

"I loved it here, it's been so important in my life, it gave me all my qualifications that I needed for the working world," said the grandmother of six.

"It's also nice knowing that the heritage is being kept alive and that the education for students remains very good."

She continued to work in the metallurgy industry, starting at local firm Zinc Alloy Rust Proofing and ending up as a fellow of the British Institute of Metallurgy, contributing technical papers and heading her own research team.

During this time she had two children before eventually ending up at her current home in Shoreham-on-Sea, Sussex.

Vice Chancellor Professor Geoff Layer said: "Sheila is a classic example of what this university is all about.

"It's amazing to see some of the people who have contributed so much and have brilliant experiences of being part of our community.

"This university continues to provide a place for students from disadvantaged backgrounds and is proud of its past."

To celebrate its 21st year, a book entitled Opening Doors in the Heartland: The History of Wolverhampton University was launched at the event.

It chronicles the institution,s past was written by a former Phd student Lib Meakin and current business lecturer, Professor Mike Haynes.

Prof Haynes began working at the university in 1975, he said: "I think the university's success relies upon the commitment of all its staff and students."

The book looks not only at the students and academics, but also those behind the scenes, from the catering staff to the security guards, whose role in keeping the facilities open is often overlooked.

Homesick

The author said he had spoken to a lot of the-behind-the-scene staff but his favourite story was off a security guard who found a new student crying in a hallway on her own.

He said: "She was on her own and quite homesick, he took time out to make her a cup of tea and have a chat, that says a lot about the staff at this university."

The university has also staged celebrations at two of its other campuses.

At Walsall last month it held a family fun day attended by more than 1,500 people and an event celebrating enterprise for the business community was held at its Telford Innovation Campus.

Three sculptures were also commissioned from students of the university's School of Art and Design, which have gone on display at the three campuses.

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

COMEDIAN Lenny Henry found it no laughing matter when he turned up to open the wrong summer fete in Dudley. Lenny turned up to open the Burton Road Hospital fete when he should have been six miles away at the Corbett Hospital, Stourbridge.

ATTENDANCE at Wolverhampton's four public baths spiralled as the region sizzled in 90 degree temperatures. More than 9,000 people used the Bilston, Bushbury, Central and Heath Town baths in the first week of July.

A SCHOOL leaver from Lower Gornal planned to beat the dole crew by creating a high-flying job for himself – washing aeroplanes. David Carter started cleaning planes for the West Midlands Flight Centre at Halfpenny Green airport after leaving Ellows Hall School.

1993...

A £260,000 project aimed at stopping youngsters from becoming car thieves was launched in Wolverhampton. Project leader Simon Brittain said he hoped the scheme for 12 to 18-year-olds would steer young people in the right direction.

A MOTORIST was hailed a hero after dragging a Wolverhampton pensioner out of his smoke-filled bungalow. But the mystery samaritan, who also pulled a burning chair out of the East Park property, disappeared before anyone could thank him.

SIXTH-form pupils from a girls' school at Brewood appeared before Wolverhampton magistrates – in a mock trial. The teenagers at St Dominic's were involved in the event as part of a scheme to raise social awareness.

2003...

THREE Wolverhampton teachers hoped to scale new heights when they set off on the gruelling Three Peaks Challenge. They aimed to climb Scotland's Ben Nevis, England's Scafell Pike and Wales's Snowden in 24 hours.

FIREFIGHTERS extinguishing a blazing car were left stunned when it took off – without any driver. The crew were left baffled when the car, believed to be stolen, mysteriously started racing down the field and performed a U-turn before shuddering to a halt.

PUPILS and staff at Kings School in Tettenhall had a hair-raising experience to raise money for charity. Brightly-coloured wigs, shaved heads and unique cuts were on show as they raised £500 for Barnardo's.

Mystery buyer to carry out facelift at cinema

The Electric Palace Picture House in Cannock has been sold at auction

Projectionist Victoria Phillips

CANNOCK'S Electric Palace Picture House is to undergo a £100,000 refurbishment after the building was sold to a mystery buyer for £175,000.

A 10-year-lease has been secured on the building and it will now be revamped with modern facilities.

New men's toilets have already been fitted and new women's toilets will be installed this week.

New seats, carpets and signs will be put in over the next three months and the Walsall Road venue will also be redecorated.

The move will signal the end of an era for traditional reel film and projection in the town, with an £80,000 switchover to digital systems likely after the summer.

Under a five-year-plan, a third 100-seater screen could be built on the current balcony area in screen one.

The previous owners, developers Pritchard, sold the cinema at auction with the new owner yet to be revealed.

Sentimental

Manager Graeme Cotton, who has run the cinema since 2009, said cinema-goers would get an improved experience.

He said: "Because we were only given short leases in the past, it was difficult for me to invest money in the place as we never knew how long we would be here.

"But now we have signed a 10-year lease we've decided to bring the cinema into the 21st century."

Mr Cotton added: "I will be very sentimental when the projectors go. There is something special about the traditional reels and handling the film. But the industry has decided to move to digital and we have to move with it."

The cinema was closed as the new men's toilets were fitted but reopened last Friday, July 5.

Films will continue to be shown during the evenings with most of the work taking place during the day.

All change on making donations to church

ALTHOUGH I like to think I am a good Christian I must admit that I have never been a regular churchgoer.

Recently I had the pleasure of attending a baptism and how things appeared to have changed regarding the practice of donating money.

As I recall, worshippers were given the option of making donations either by passing a plate around or via collection plate by the exit.

Now, it seems the practice is to give everyone an envelope – clearly designed to only take notes – with the order of service, ask them to write on their details and place on a tray at the time of singing a 'Donation Hymn'.

In these times of hardship, and considering the church already asks for large fees for weddings, baptisms, etc, I feel it should be more considerate and discreet in the way it asks for money from its congregation.

Trust found wanting over running of theatre

I READ with interest your article of June 27– 'Council's praise for leisure providers'.

It was good to hear that attendances at Cannock and Rugeley Leisure Centres had increased by more than a third since Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust had taken over their running last year. It was also good to learn that WLCT had invested £1.4m in the two leisure centres and the museum and had overseen the construction of fitness suites at the two leisure centres.

However, the WLCT took over the running of the whole of the Culture and Sport facilities previously managed by Cannock Chase District Council and this just happens to include The Prince of Wales Centre, of which, your report makes no mention whatsoever.

I know the theatre has never been high on the majority of councilors' list of priorities but surely they haven't forgotten about this facility so soon?

One would believe so on taking a casual stroll around. The box office area is badly in need of a spruce-up, commercial vehicles park on the adjacent pavement adjacent and there are florist racks stacked at the rear of the box office.

WLCT's winning tender also included a number of references to 'increase the number of activities and performances', 'increase participants', 'widen usage in under-utilised downtime' and contained a number of strategies to achieve these targets. However, the reality has been found sadly lacking.

In the first 12 months of the partnership a mere 18 evenings involving original professional acts, seven days of professional pantomime and 16 tribute-act evenings have graced the stage.

Amateur groups have performed on 37 days, while dance schools have used the theatre for 32.

In total, The Prince of Wales has been open to the public for approximately one third of the possible days in the first year of the partnership.

BRYAN TILL, Cannock

Excellent spending review, by George!

WHAT an excellent spending review made by the Chancellor George Osborne, my favourite one being the welfare package.

He has made it clear that those who refuse work or not actively seeking work for their benefits will not be automatically forthcoming until they can prove otherwise. But the jewel in this package is that ex-pats who have abandoned their country's ideals will lose their fuel allowance.

However, he could have gone one better by stopping the free prescription service that pensioner ex-pats also presently enjoy. It must be costing the NHS millions. Three cheers and "Well done by George".

Important to keep hospital within NHS

I HEARD that our MP Aidan Burley has said that he always wanted Cannock Hospital to remain in the NHS.

Really? I can recall last September when he was calling on Cannock Chase Council to buy the hospital which would have resulted in a 40 per cent council tax rise. Then he wanted the council to move its staff into the hospital building, turning it into an office block. Then he wanted the government to give Cannock Hospital to an outside organisation and wanted other public bodies to put their admin staff into the hospital.

That doesn't sound much like keeping our hospital open and part of the NHS to me. Mr Burley has no local connections and doesn't even live in the constituency. Perhaps that is why he doesn't really understand how important it is to local people that our hospital stays as part of the NHS.

Charity cash collected

ON behalf of the Burntwood, Cannock and Lichfield branch of the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association I would like to say thank you to the staff for their co-operation and all the people who so kindly donated to our fundraising collection held at Morrisons, Lichfield on June 21 and 22. The total amount raised was £884.14. If anyone is interested in helping GDBA with fundraising call 01543 683937.

This road forgotten

CONGRATULATIONS to Network Rail for their £1.5million bridge to safeguard cyclists, pedestrians and horse riders from up to three trains per hour at up to 50 mph.

Just forget about the Rugeley Road, then. They have to cross with cars every few seconds at speeds of up 70 mph.

No doubt the signs warning motorists of cyclists crossing will help to protect them. Or am I being picky?

DIY action on dog noise

WHEN the sun comes out, which is not very often, it is nice to sit out in the garden and enjoy the peace and quiet. That is until that quiet is shattered by someone's dog barking, who then sets off the other dogs in the area. A good council would do something about it, but not Cannock Chase Council. According to them if you want any action to be done, you have to do it yourself.

Appeal is made to helpers

Council objects strongly to schools' academy bid

Reward for fundraising

Matthew McLean has raised more than £3,000 for the air ambulance

A RUGELEY teenager has been rewarded for his efforts in raising more than £3,000 for the Midlands Air Ambulance.

Matthew McLean, aged 13, of Hill Street, began raising money for the cause three years ago and was named Young Fundraiser of the Year at the Recognition Awards held at Edgbaston in Birmingham. He was presented with a glass trophy in front of 450 guests, including rugby stars Mike Tindall and Andy Goode.

Matthew's first fundraiser was a bike ride to Lichfield when he raised £947.

Since then the Hagley Park Academy student has organised tombolas, car washes and dressed up as a teddy bear.

COUNCILLORS in Cannock have strongly condemned controversial plans to turn two failing primary schools into academies.

Cannock Chase District Council is calling on its county counterparts to 'fully and unequivocally' come out against forcing Norton Canes and Heath Hayes Primary Schools to become sponsor-run academies.

The schools have a total of 457 pupils on their rolls. Both have been put under an order to allow discussions to take place about converting.

The schools were put into special measures by Ofsted inspectors but Councillor George Adamson, leader of the district council, said forcing them to become academies was not the answer.

He said: "You only have to look to Staffordshire University Academy in Hednesford and Rugeley's Hagley Park Academy, who have both been told by Ofsted that they have to improve, to know it is no guarantee.

Interim

"Local people are up in arms about it and it is our duty to support our communities."

A full meeting of Cannock Chase Council last week heard members of an interim board brought in to replace the governing bodies at the schools lived in Cheshire, London, Tamworth, Derby and Corby.

Councillor John Barnard, who was among the Heath Hayes governors 'sacked', said: "Both sets of governors tried very hard to turn the schools around in the last two years and during that time help was very patchy."

Councillor Muriel Davis warned that if the academy plans went ahead more schools would be forced down the same route.

Industrial death ruling

SOUTH Staffs coroner Andrew Haigh has ruled that a former Rugeley Power Station worker died of industrial disease. John Holland, aged 82, of William Morris Court, Rugeley, was a coal sampler and worked at the site for more than 40 years, a Cannock inquest heard. He died on March 16.

It's five alive as family plays generation game

Eighty nine year old Ina Harley, holds five month old great great grandaughter Livvie-Mai Willington, as daughter Jean Roadway, aged 68, grandaughter Alison Harley, 41, and great grandaughter Stacey Roadway, 22, look on SPECIAL occasions and get-togethers are never quiet a family of five generations, where the oldest is nearly 90 and the youngest is just five months.

The newest addition, Livvie-Mai Willington, was born at the start of the year.

Her great-grandmother Jean Roadway, aged 68, said it felt special having five generations of females in the same family and all living in Hednesford. Mrs Roadway said: "When Livvie-Mai was born, it was lovely having another girl in the family. It feels special that she has a great-great-grandmother to look out for her."

Retired

Ina Harvey, now aged 89, moved to Staffordshire with her husband Peter from Scotland to work in the thriving coal mining industry.

Mrs Harvey then had retired carer Jean who in turn gave birth to daughter Alison Harley, 41, as well as Sharon, 43, and son Shaun, 48. Alison, a carer, had Stacey, 22, as well as Chanell, 19, Jack, 11, and Alfie, two.

Dental nurse Stacey is the newest mum in the family after giving birth to Livvie-Mai in February.

Jean added: "It's lovely when we all get together for parties and special occasions. I think we get very loud when we're all together.

"It'll be nice when mum celebrates her 90th in October and we can all be together to mark such a special day."

Resident seeks council apology over flooding

Ann Armstrong in her driveway in Langtree Close, Heath Hayes, which was badly flooded last year

A POLICE detention officer claims a blocked drain overflowed and flooded her home, costing her thousands.

Ann Armstrong,of Langtree Close, n Heath Hayes, had to replace garden furniture and numerous boxes of household goods after the drain outside her bungalow became blocked up with leaves and debris last June.

Since then she has written to Staffordshire County Council to get the authority to accept the blame but says she has never even received a reply. "My bungalow and the two either side of me became flooded but I got the brunt of it," said Ann.

"The water came flooding into my kitchen and back bedroom and when I went to investigate where it was coming from, I saw the drain outside was completely blocked with leaves.

Furniture

"It must have been like that for well over a year. It took hours for the carpets and furniture to dry out and I am now thousands of pounds out of pocket. I haven't been offered an apology let alone any compensation and I am really worried this could happen again if we have a downpour."

Staffordshire County Councillor Simon Tagg said: "Last year we had one of the wettest summers on record, leaving many drainage systems unable to cope," he said.

"We were in this case able to provide sandbags and the gully was working. However it would have struggled with the volume of water. The additional gullies referred to by Mrs Armstrong are footway soak away gullies and are not designed for flooding."

Launch date announced as new store is welcomed

SUPERMARKET bosses have announced a new Tesco Express store in Cannock will open on August 20 and will create 20 jobs.

The convenience store is being built on the A34 Stafford Road and its development has been welcomed by the district council's leader.

by Marion Brennan

Three other stores are also going up at the site, which previously housed a St Giles Hospice at Home charity shop.

When planning consent was first sought 16 months ago, nearby residents had raised concerns that the row of shops would cause congestion outside their homes.

Others said the convenience store was not needed because of its position so close to Cannock centre.

Recruiting

But Councillor George Adamson, who represents the area, said the town was a long way for some people to go.

"This will provide local shops for residents and the creation of jobs is obviously good news," he said.

Tesco has begun recruiting for full and part-time positions.

The former car park is also being expanded to accommodate up to 30 cars.

In April the supermarket giant revealed it had 830 sites in its development pipeline across the UK.

The vast majority will be smaller Tesco Express stores, of which some 150 will open over the next year – a rate of one every two-and-a-half days.

Many will be built with collection points where customers can pick up goods ordered online. The company already has 1,500 Express stores across the country.

Tesco opened an 80,000sq ft store in Victoria Street, Hednesford, in December, creating 300 jobs.

Work began in March on a new store in Rugeley, due to open on September 30.

Permission was given for the 40,000 sq ft supermarket on the former Celcon factory in Power Station Road more than two years ago. It will bring 250 jobs and will include a restaurant, petrol station and free parking for up to three hours.

Club is just brilliant

Louie Rider with fellow members of the Cannock Chase High School Brilliant Club and teacher Janice Spilsbury

PUPILS have been working with Warwick University on a top experiment as part of their work with their school's Brilliant Club.

Thirty Cannock Chase High School students make up the club and for the past few months they have been involved in a new programme which helps selected students to reach their full academic potential.

The Year 10 and pupils have taken part in a series of university-style tutorials run by PhD students at Warwick.

Pupils are set assignments which are assessed at university level and at the end, they have to submit their own assignment. If they pass, they then graduate from the Brilliant Club and receive a certificate from the university.

Teacher Janice Spilsbury says the club's main aim is to give a pupils the chance to improve their chances of getting into one of the country's top 20 universities.

Year 10 pupil Nathan Baker said. "It was a challenging experience but also very rewarding, knowing that I had produced a piece of work at university standard.

"It has given me confidence to think about applying to the top universities because I already know what it would be like to study at that level."

'Swan of Lichfield' story told

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

PATSY Jarman gave a talk at the last meeting on Anna Seaward, an English romantic poet often called The Swan of Lichfield.

She was born in 1742 in Eyam in Derbyshire, being the only one of four children to reach adulthood. Eyam is famous as the plague village which went in to voluntary quarantine when the plague was imported from London in 1665. She died in 1809.

Anna began writing poetry at an early age. Her verses include elegies and sonnets. She also wrote poetical novel Louisa, of which five editions were published. There is a plaque to her in Lichfield Cathedral.

Anna never married and was devoted to caring for her sick father after her mother died. She built a renowned literary circle and encouraged young talented writers including Erasmus Darwin, with support, advice and even money.

The daughter of a high ranking, literary Anglican clergyman, she enjoyed financial and cultural privilege and was a pivotal figure among late-century British writers.

Anna was instrumental in landscaping Minster Pool in Lichfield into a serpentine shape and developing a new walk along its Southern bank. She persuaded the Levitts to make a donation.

Tales from historic church roll off Tong

St Bartholomew's at Tong was visited by the Landor (Local History) Society

LANDOR (LOCAL HISTORY) SOCIETY

AN outing to Tong was the destination on June 19. A tasty supper at the village hall preceded a visit to the church of St Bartholomew's.

Guide David Dixon related many historical facts about the village and its church, founded in 1410 by Isabel de Pembrugge in memory of her husband, Sir Faulk.

Charles Dickens spent time at Tong, visiting his grandmother who worked at the castle. Dickens was thought to have based his story of The Old Curiosity Shop there using the church as the place where Nell Trent died. The reputed grave of Little Nell is just outside the south door but is entirely fictitious.

Presentation to charities

GREAT WYRLEY TOWNSWOMEN

DESPITE missing members the June evening was well attended. A group of members were away at Harrogate attending the National AGM.

The meeting opened with cheque presentations of £300 each to representatives of three charities, Breast Cancer Breakthrough, The Stroke Association and Heart Care (Walsall). The decision which charities would benefit had been made at an earlier meeting.

After the normal monthly business and refreshments, members returned to listen to David Bartley with his evening of Black Country humour and poems.

Golf club pro arrested over indecent images

A GOLF club professional has been arrested on suspicion of downloading indecent images of children.

Guy Dean has worked across Staffordshire and the Black Country including at clubs in Penn, Rowley Regis, West Bromwich, Pelsall and Cannock over his career. He was arrested in April.

Penn Golf Club accepted his resignation with immediate effect after the arrest.

Mr Dean, aged 43, has not yet been charged and has been bailed to a date in September. He said he had been helping police with enquiries.

He said: "There's nothing I can say yet really as the investigation is ongoing," he said.

"I've helped with police inquiries. I have told them everything I know."

Mr Dean had continued to offer tuition at Fishley Park, Pelsall, follow his resignation from Penn.

Roy Johnson, a director of Fishley Park, said: "He wasn't an employee. He came and did lessons with us and that's it. Fishley Park is a family business but I wasn't aware of this arrest until now. In the light of these events we have now parted company."

Golf club professional Guy Dean

According to Fishley Park's website, Mr Dean had been teaching there since 1991. He started his professional career at Beaudesert Golf Club in Rugeley Road, Cannock, in 1986. In 1996 he joined ranks with European Seniors Tour player Jim Rhodes at South Staffordshire Golf Club.

He was also head professional at Dartmouth Golf Club, West Bromwich, before he spent five years as head professional at Dudley Golf Club, Rowley Regis, in 2000.

Bailed

In 2005 Mr Dean became head professional at Penn Golf Club in Wolverhampton, which he left with immediate effect in April after tendering a resignation.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Faye Casey said: "A 43-year-old man from Bloxwich was arrested in April on suspicion of possession of, and making, indecent images of children.

He has been bailed, pending further inquiries, to a date in September."

Penn Golf Club declined to comment, citing legal reasons.

Number of food bank customers on the rise

MORE than 1,000 people have used a food bank in Cannock during the past seven months, according to organisers.

They predict that the numbers will rise further as unemployment figures increase.

by Rob Golledge

Run by a collection of churches across Cannock Chase, 13 tons of food has been passed on to those in need, with organisers expecting hundreds of more visits.

Volunteer Sharon Jagger said the numbers had spiked in recent months, with changes to the benefit system likely to be the main cause.

Delay

"Since the government changes, we are finding more and more people being referred to us because of a delay with benefit payment or down to recent changes.

"With more changes due, we can only see the number of people coming to us increasing."

The food bank is based at the Pye Green Christian Centre in Hednesford, and food is given out six days a week across Cannock and the surrounding area. It is staffed by a team of more than 50 volunteers. It was set up in November to help those who are struggling financially to buy food.

Food is donated by individuals, schools, churches and business.

Vouchers are given out to those in need by a range of professionals such as doctors, health visitors, social workers, Citizens Advice Bureau staff, welfare officers, probation workers and teachers.

The food is then claimed from one of several distribution centres. Each voucher lists why it has been issued.

For information about the project or to get involved go to http://cannockdistrict.foodbank.org.uk or call 01543 422394.

Iris does the honours

Michael and Stephanie Benniston, with oldest Rawnsley resident Iris Parrish at the opening of the deli at the Rag

THE oldest resident of a Chase village has officially unveiled a pub's new addition.

Iris Parrish remembers delivering post to The Rag in Rawnsley during the Second World War. So it was fitting that the 92-year-old, who has lived in the area since 1940, was on hand to unveil the pub's on-site deli.

Villagers turned out to watch her cut the ribbon at the new shop on Ironstone Road.

Mrs Parrish, the oldest resident in the Circle of Residents Association for higher Prospect Village, said: "I've lived here for that many years now, you get to know everyone and I'd hate to live anywhere else."

Pub owners, Michael and Stephanie Benniston, will sell their own range of homemade pies, sausages and cooked deli meats at the new premises, as well as fresh bread, fruit and vegetables and basic grocery provisions. Mr Benniston will introduce a fresh fish service in the coming weeks.

Fashion store goes green

A LADIES fashion store in Cannock is going green this weekend to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support. Staff at Bon Marche in the Forum Shopping Centre will be selling green cakes, biscuits and sweets from 9am tomorrow (Friday). Customers who visit the store wearing the bright colour will receive 10 per cent off their purchases.

Cannabis seized by police in drugs raids

Police officers execute a warrant in Lion Street, Rugeley, as part of the Operation Nemesis drugs crackdown

THOUSANDS of pounds of drugs was seized by police in a series of raids. Sixty officers raided 10 homes and took away more than £20,000 worth of cannabis, ketamine and cocaine.

A warrant was executed at home in Lion Street, Rugeley just before 7am on Thursday, July 4. Police discovered a cannabis factory worth £6,000. The raids were carried out as part of the drugs crackdown, Operation Nemesis.

Around a dozen plants were being grown in the basement and garden. The plants were seized and a man and woman were arrested. Eight arrests were made in all at homes in Norton Canes, Rugeley, Hednesford and Chadsmoor. Five men, aged 27, 41, 45, 49 and 55 were bailed pending further inquiries. Three men, aged 21, 27 and 49, were cautioned for possession of drugs

Western Power was also called into an address in Great Wyrley due to concerns about the power supply.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe said: "This was definitely a success, judged by the feedback we've had from the local communities."

Car dealer cultivated crop

A CANNOCK car dealer who turned his home into a cannabis production operation has been sentenced.

Four rooms in Glen Smith's home had been turned over to cultivation, with a potential crop yield of almost £30,000, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Mr Paul Farrow, prosecuting, said the electricity meter had been by-passed and the rooms were being heated and lit for free.

Police who carried out a raid at the house on October 25 last year also found a carrier bag containing £6,000 in cash and a separate bankroll of £360.

Smith, aged 26, of Longford Road, Cannock admitted cultivating cannabis and taking the electricity.

Upstairs

He was given a 12 month prison sentence suspended for 18 months and ordered to do 180 hours unpaid community work.

Mr Farrow said the cannabis was being produced in the upstairs rooms, with a total of 71 plants and the usual paraphernalia of heating and lighting.

When questioned, Smith told police he was a car dealer, at present on benefits.

The money in the bag was compensation for a head injury and winnings at Wolverhampton dog track, he said.

Mr John Smitheman, defending, said Smith was of previous good character. "This was an enterprise motivated by financial advantage.

"He would have sold some – this was the first crop."

Lollipops on patrol as 60 year jubilee celebrated

AN army of Staffordshire lollipop men and women gathered to mark the diamond jubilee of the county's first school crossing patrol.

For 60 years the wardens have been helping children cross busy roads to help ensure they get to school safely.

And on Sunday (July 7) they came together for a tea party at the Staffordshire County Showground to celebrate the anniversary.

Among those who attended were two husband and wife duos from Cannock and Hednesford.

Darren and Mary Wardle, from Cannock, have been carrying out the duty for three and four years respectively. Mrs Wardle's mother Rita Cotterell, 61, has patrolled Delta Way in Bridgtown, for more than 20 years.

Rewarding

Mr Wardle, 47, is a mobile lollipop man and travels across the county.

He said: "Mary's mum does the job and so we were aware of it like that.

"I find it hugely rewarding and when you see the little children smile and greet you in the mornings you realise you are doing something worthwhile.

"Mary covers the same road as her mum so they children get to known them very well."

Another couple who have both taken up the job are Geoff and Maureen Hill of Hednesford.

Mr Hill, 72, has been guarding the roads for the past two years while Mrs Hill has notched up three decades in the role in Hazel Slade, Hednesford.

Mrs Hill said: "I absolutely love the job. Everyone is so friendly and it really makes you happy.

"I have been doing it so long that I am now helping children cross the road whose parents I used to help cross. It is a lovely job."

Geoff and Maureen Hill celebrate the crossing patrols' 60th anniversary

Husband and wife lollipop team Mary and Darren Wardle from Cannock

Mr Hill added: "For me it was a case of if you can't beat them, join them, but it is very enjoyable and you know you are keeping safety on the roads."

The first official patrol started work in 1953 and, while the uniform and sign may have changed to meet modern standards, the role is essentially the same today as it was 60 years ago.

Staffordshire County Council has 323 patrol officers. The youngest is 23 with the average age around 59.

Staffordshire County Councillor Simon Tagg, Cabinet Member for Transport and Connected County, said. "Staffordshire has some of the safest roads in the county, a record we are proud of and have worked hard to achieve. Our dedicated patrols and initiatives are testament to this."

Drummer Jon recovers after a third cancer op

THE CHARLATANS Burntwood-based drummer Jon Brookes has undergone a third operation for cancer.

The 44-year-old – who is suffering with a brain tumour – is said to be recovering at home following surgery.

The father-of-three was discharged last Friday (July 5) and the band, who shot to fame with hits such as The Only One I Know, have announced that Verve drummer Pete Salisbury will deputise for their forthcoming live shows.

Brookes went under the knife at Edgbaston's Priority Hospital two weekends ago after the tumour reappeared.

He first began suffering with it three years ago after collapsing on stage while performing in America. He suffered a seizure as the group, formed in Walsall, played in Philadelphia.

Brookes was back on stage a month later and said a gig at the 02 Birmingham Academy had given him a new determination to get back on stage full time with the indie legends.

Drummer Jon Brookes

He underwent radiation and chemotherapy treatment for the tumour. The drummer thanked fans for all their support at the time. He said: "I will never be able to express my heartfelt thanks for all the love and light I received."

Brookes said he enjoyed seeing the band from the fans' perspective and appreciated it when singer Tim Burgess dedicated their 1997 hit Tellin' Stories to him. "It's been interesting what I have learned, the quicker people come to terms with things like this, the better," he added.

Experience

"I hope it influences it (recording with the band) in some way. It will definitely have a profound effect on me, but God knows what will come out from the experience."

Brookes – who has since given students an insight into his cancer battle during a talk at Halesowen College – has also set up JB Studios, near Pelsall, which is being used by local bands to rehearse.

He suffered a relapse in September 2012, two years after his initial diagnosis.

'Bullet' fires his way to darts win

WORLD number one Stephen Bunting won an open darts contest in Cannock which boasted a first prize of £750.

More than 100 players, many of them local, entered the competition at Bar Sport last Sunday (July 7). But they were faced with playing the likes of former PDC World number one Colin 'Jaws' Lloyd and Wolverhampton based PDC player Wayne Jones.

But it was current BDO World Number One Bunting, from Merseyside, who won the competition beating Mick Todd, from Newark 6-2 in the final.

'The Bullet' won £750, with a total of £1,600 handed out in prizes.

Supermarket security guard stole £8,000 worth of stock

A SUPERMARKET security officer stole about £8,000 worth of high-end electrical goods from under the noses of his employers, a court heard.

Cannock magistrates was told Christopher Anderson continued to plunder stock from Sainsbury's after he was asked to investigate the 'inside job'.

Bosses at the Orbital Way store became concerned when it began chalking up significant losses in its entertainments department between March 2012 and March 2013.

Anderson, part of the supermarket's Securitas team, was app-ointed to look into the issue of missing stock.

Christopher Anderson

Expensive

Suspecting an insider, bosses brought in a 'gold' security system for the most expensive goods which arrived in sealed boxes and were stored in secure cupboards.

Mrs Karen Walton, prosecuting, said Anderson, aged 44, sifted through CCTV film, being 'selective' about what footage senior managers saw. As he was also asked to check the sealed boxes, he raised no suspicions when in that area.

But on April 3 he was seen in the games aisle hiding computer games inside his high-visibility jacket. A rucksack of Anderson's was found during a search, containing more computer games. He admitted what he had done but could provide no explanation.

Mr Sukhdip Randhawa, defending, said it appeared Anderson became 'addicted' to stealing. He exchanged the goods for cash vouchers, accumulating £3,000.

Anderson, of Pingle Close, West Bromwich, admitted theft by an employee. He was given a six-month prison sentence suspended for 18 months with supervision. He was also given 200 hours' unpaid work with court costs at £165 and compensation to Sainsbury's of £5,000.

Medic's honour over baby born in lift

ECA Nigel Goodman, paramedic Nikki Wildman, Ella Nicola, mum Melissa Cavanagh and dad Paul Yeomans

THE parents of a baby girl born in a lift have named their daughter after the Penkridge paramedic who helped to deliver her.

Ella Nicola was safely born last Friday, weighing 6lbs 1oz, in a broken lift at a set of flats in Reservoir Road, Rowley Regis.

Paramedic Nikki Wildman who lives in Penkridge but is based at Willenhall called at the home of parents-to-be Melissa Cavanagh, aged 23 and 25-year-old Paul Yeomans. As they took the lift down it broke, trapping them in.

Nikki said: "About 20 minutes later, we were all still in the lift when Melissa's contractions started to get a lot closer together The baby wasn't going to wait for the lift to be repaired."

Ella – short for elevator – was later delivered and, in honour of the paramedic's actions, the proud parents gave her the middle name of Nicola.

Tribunal hearing won by parents

PARENTS who took their diabetic son's school to court after he was excluded from a residential trip because of his condition have won a ground-breaking ruling.

A tribunal judge found in Andy and Zoe Sherwood's favour and criticised Havergal CofE Primary in Shareshill and its governors for discriminating against their son Lewis.

Mrs Sherwood said: "I wanted to burst into tears when I heard. We were made to feel like outcasts by the school. This means everything."

Insulin

Lewis, now aged nine, has type 1 diabetes and is insulin dependent. He was not allowed to stay overnight during a two-day residential trip to Coven as teachers did not want to be responsible for his healthcare. He had to return home to Shareshill each evening instead.

His parents claimed the school unlawfully discriminated against Lewis.

Tribunal judge Meleri Tudur said head Carol Watson failed to do everything in her power to ensure Lewis was able to participate in the course. He has now moved to Whitgreave Primary, in Featherstone.

Staffordshire County Council said it would look carefully at the recommendations.

Yes, you can go to the ball on a budget

A CHARITY in Staffordshire is hoping to cut the cost of prom nights by offering tuxedos and ball gowns on a budget.

Teenagers across Cannock can still feel like princes and princesses thanks to Age UK South Staffordshire, which stocks dresses and suits for as little as £10.

Four people volunteering to show prom-goers how they could take advantage of the offer were Phil Morton, 30, and his girlfriend Harri Matthews, 21 and Jazzmin French, 21, and Nick Callister, 22, from Stafford.

They were given a free haircut from Cutting It hair studio in Queens Square, Cannock, and make-up from the Body Shop before choosing an outfit from the Stafford branch of the charity shop.

Elizabeth Marginson, community engagement organiser, said: "Prom dresses and suits can cost hundreds of pounds, add that to the cost of transport and it can be a fairly expensive affair. But visit Age UK and you can pick up a bargain outfit costing between £10 and £20 – so you really can go to the ball for a fraction of what most people think it costs to kit yourself out."

The volunteers were treated to a photo shoot and were shown how funding from Age UK stores is used to support older people. For more information about the charity and how to donate visit www.ageuk.org.uk/southstaffs

Dog attack left victim needing stitches to face

A DOG owner told a neighbour his pet did not bite before the animal sank its teeth into the other man's face, causing injuries which needed 18 stitches.

Phillip Armishaw's Staffordshire Bull Terrier called Sunny ran out of his home in March before attacking neighbour Craig Ward, Cannock magistrates heard.

Mr John Peel, prosecuting, said Mr Ward saw Armishaw, aged 58, also known as Pip, calling the dog to get back in the house, in Ascot Drive, Cannock.

"Mr Ward said Pip told him 'he doesn't bite – can you pick him up and bring him here?'," Mr Peel said.

"Because of this he picked him up. The dog then bit his face. Mr Ward could then feel the warmth of blood around his mouth.

"Mr Ward had to go to New Cross Hospital, he required 18 stitches to his face. He was told he may have scarring as a result."

But Mr Neil Gerrity, defending, claimed his client merely told Mr Ward to keep the dog where it was, not to pick it up.

"As far as my client's concerned, what he said was 'keep him there, he won't bite'," Mr Gerrity said.

Control

"He didn't ask the man to pick it up."

Armishaw admitted being a person in charge of a dog which was allowed to be dangerously out of control in a public place and cause injury.

The court heard the dog was out for four to five minutes and added the owners now plan to re-home the animal, taking it back to kennels in Featherstone, partly down to the fact they are now moving into a bungalow.

The case was adjourned until July 18 when Armishaw will be sentenced.

Mine's a treble says 100-year-old George

George Collop with the Hednesford Town trophies

A LIFELONG Hednesford Town fan had a cup of cheer to mark his 100th birthday – three of them in fact.

To mark George Collop's milestone, the club sent a birthday card and scarf which were hand-delivered to his Chadsmoor home by supporters' association chairman Scott Smith.

Mr Smith, aged 25, also took along the three latest trophies won by the team – the Birmingham Senior Cup, the Staffordshire Senior Cup and the Northern Primary League runners-up trophy. He said the club had been contacted by Mr Collop's neighbours and relatives to arrange the surprise visit.

Dedicated fan Mr Collop, a father-of-two, has been attending Hednesford Town games since the 1930s but has not been able to go for the past four years following a fall in which he broke his hip.

He said:"I had such a lively day, I was absolutely delighted."

Family speaks out as caravan bid is opposed

THE family behind controversial plans for two gipsy caravans in the garden of their home have spoken out over the proposals.

Bill Watton submitted plans to build two static caravans along with an additional pitch for another caravan in the back garden of his family home, in Long Lane, Newtown.

The scheme has sparked anger among local residents with the campaign against the proposals gathering pace.

But Mr Watton's wife Bonnie has hit back, saying: "I don't think they're intentionally targeting our way of life but it's the usual response of 'not in my back yard."

by Tom Mason

Commitment

The family moved into their home seven years ago after living a traditional Romany Gipsy life on the road.

"We invested a lot of time, money and hard work into our home. It was a big commitment for us and a real change in lifestyle," said Mrs Watton.

"We are very houseproud and I have always looked after our home. I even clear litter off the public footpath outside and wash it down with a pressure washer and brush.

"Before all this began we were told by many of the people along the lane that we were a credit to the community."

"All my children have been bought up properly and all have attended local schools. One of my sons is even about to complete a construction course at the Rodbaston Campus of South Staffordshire College."

She added the new development was intended for her elderly mother-in-law – who is aged 80 and does not drive – and for her son.

"My son already lives with us, so for our neighbours to say there will be extra traffic and disruption is completely unfounded," Mrs Watton said.

Closing in on sports site

A NEW sports stadium in Cannock has taken a step closer to a £650,000 boost after council bosses voted to allocate funds. The cash has been the subject of an eight-year dispute between Cannock Chase Council and Asda, which initially handed over the sum as part of conditions attached to building its store in Avon Road. Last Wednesday's vote brings the stadium, off Pye Green Road, nearer to reality but Asda still has to agree to the scheme. The amount agreed in 2005 when Asda was negotiating planning permission was £500,000 but has risen with interest.

New cemetery aims to provide 8,000 spaces

A NEW cemetery has opened in Great Wyrley that will provide enough plots for the next 50 years.

Strawberry Lane cemetery in Upper Landywood Lane is the size of five rugby pitches. It was built after 12 acres of land was handed over to South Staffordshire Council last year.

Since then contractors have been working on the site to transform it into a modern cemetery.

The cemetery was opened last Thursday, July 4, by Rita Heseltine, chairman of South Staffordshire Council. She planted a tree in honour of the opening with Councillor Mary Bond, cabinet member for environmental services. The project will eventually deliver 8,000 burial plots.

Tartan Army Les to bring Rollermania into theatre

FANS will give a little love to former Bay City Rollers frontman Les McKeown when he performs at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre.

The Edinburgh-born singer, who joined the Scottish glam rock outfit at the age of 18, performs with his Les McKeown's Legendary Bay City Rollers on October 26 .

High Roller Les Mckeown

The band went on to have nine UK top 10 hits with two number ones, including Bye Bye Baby, the top-selling single of 1975.

In 1978, Les left the band and his first solo album, All Washed Up, was released the following year. A new band Ego Trip went on to record five successful albums in Japan and in the late 80s, more chart success followed in Germany with a the solo album It's a Game.

In 1991, Les found himself back on the London stage for the first time in more than 10 years with his theatrical project The Tartan Army.

Video

Soon after that he formed Les McKeown's Legendary Bay City Rollers and began touring once again.

In 2006 Les, now aged 58, released his autobiography 'Shang-A-Lang: Life As an International Pop Idol'.

Four years on, the Legendary Bay City Rollers hit the road with the theatre production 'Rollermania! - the Musical Story of The Bay City Rollers'. Last year, a reworked theatre show 'The Bay City Rollers Story' was born, with video elements from the 1970s propelling the show forward into a 'Rollermentary Musical'.

The current UK tour of 'Les McKeown's Bay City Roller Show' follows a successful tour of Canada.

Inspectors give praise to school

GOVERNMENT inspectors have given a glowing report to Penkridge Middle School.

The Ofsted inspectors found leadership and behaviour to be outstanding at the school in Marsh Lane.

The school has 406 pupils aged nine to 13.

The achievement of pupils and the quality of teaching were both judged to be good while pupils' behaviour and the school's leadership were described as outstanding.

The report said pupils made 'consistently better than expected progress' and enjoyed their learning.

It added they were keen to learn and their behaviour in lessons and around the school was exemplary.

The care, guidance and support they received were outstanding, said the report.

Headteacher Sue King paid tribute, saying: "We are pleased that inspectors have recognised the strengths of our school."

Decision on cuts is deferred as petition signed by 1,500

MORE than 1,000 residents in Burntwood have signed a petition to reject proposed cuts put forward by Lichfield District Council.

At a full council meeting on Tuesday night, Labour Group leader Steve Norman presented the document with almost 1,500 signatures from local residents.

It urged councillors to reject cuts to community transport, development, projects and regeneration.

The council will now have to consider the petition at the next cabinet meeting in September, meaning its Fit for the Future programme, which aims to reduce budgets while protecting key services, has had to be postponed.

Sheets

Councillor Norman said: "My plan was to show how valued these services are by demonstrating public support for community services.

"I drew up the petition but it was in response to community groups contacting me. They asked for the sheets and took it upon themselves to collect signatures from their users and supporters.

"Petition papers were coming back to me in small amounts with only 553 signatures on Monday night but with just 25 minutes to go before the meeting, I was given a further 900, triggering the decision by the leader of council to defer the decision to cut the services."

Councillor Steve Norman

Councillor Norman said savings must be made and hopes both the Labour and Conservative parties can work together to find out what electors want.

He added: "District councils are suffering more than others from government cuts and this is not likely to improve before 2020.

"We have to make savings of £2m before 2015 so we have to engage with our electors and ask them what their priorities are and what they value.

"Scrutiny will be meaningless if it happens after services are cut and staff are made redundant."

Gunging is a FAB fundraiser

REPRESENTATIVES of a Burntwood organisation raised more than £200 after they were gunged at a summer fete.

Chairman of Forward Action Burntwood (FAB), Sharon Whitchurch, and vice-chair Michael Pritchard put themselves forward as victims at Ridgeway Primary on Grange Road. More than £240 was raised and the money will be split between the school and FAB.

Mrs Whitchurch, a teacher at Ridgeway, said: "It was great to see so many people there to support not only the school but FAB too.

"The gunge cord was pulled by Michael's son and another child from my class. Everyone had a great time.

"We are hoping to put the money towards a Christmas event for children and families in and around Burntwood and intend to target families who are at the more disadvantaged end of the social-economic scale."

No worries – Lion King is the 'mane' attraction

Nicholas Nkuna as Simba and Carole Stennett as Nala

South African singer Gugwana Dlamini stars as Rafiki

Disney presents The Lion King, Birmingham Hippodrome

THE popular Disney animated movie turned blockbuster musical has roared into the Midlands and it is a spectacular production that will live long in the memory.

That's just how it should be, when audiences are paying West End prices they expect and deserve London theatreland production values. Disney deliver those in this colourful, creative touring version of the West End and Broadway hit.

The costumes and puppets are breathtaking, right from the moment elephants and a rhino stroll down the Hippodrome aisles to join leaping antelopes and lofty giraffes striding across the stage as the international cast sing Elton John's Circle of Life.

It is a jaw-dropping set piece, matched at the start of the second act when the actors turn the auditorium into an aviary for swooping buzzards and birds of paradise.

The scenery and costumes are ingenious as actors become grassland savannahs with the help of surreal hats or herd of gazelles via a double bicycle contraption.

Dynamic

At the heart of the show is a simple story of a boy becoming a man, or rather cub becoming a lion, as Simba learns to face up to his responsibilities and make his murdered father proud by saving the family pride of lions.

Several youngsters share the roles of young lion and lioness Simba and Nala. At this performance dynamic little Joshua Cameron and delightful Donica Elliston were excellent.

Nicholas Nkuna had a noble bearing and good voice as Simba, almost eclipsed by Carole Stennett as the feisty strong-voiced Nala. Stephen Carlile verged on panto villain as Simba's evil uncle Scar but the incredible Gugwana Dlamini, the best singer by far, was the audience's favourite as the bizarre baboon Rafiki.

Of course, the children's favourites are wisecracking duo Timon and the flatulent Pumbaa, excellent characterisations by John Hasler and Mark Roper respectively in elaborate costume puppet combinations.

This production is not without flaws, sometimes Tim Rice's witty lyrics are lost in the mix. But the catchiest song Hakuna Matata – Swahili for 'no worries'– was so infectious that many left the theatre singing it after the audience gave the show a standing ovation. You can feel the love for this show. It continues at the Hippodrome until September 28.

The return of Motown UK

Work on a Turner sports car chassis at Wolverhampton Airport

AS the huge Jaguar Land Rover engine plant begins to take shape on i54, bringing big time motor manufacturing to Wolverhampton, it is easy to forget there was a time when the city was the UK's equivalent of Detroit, a veritable Motown UK.

by Alec Brew

In the late Victorian era Wolverhampton was the main bicycle manufacturing town in the country, whereas Nottingham had five cycle makers, locally there were more than 30, and it was inevitable that many of these would turn to motor-cycle and car making.

The first off the mark was Star, which built its first car, based on the German Benz in 1896. Sunbeam followed soon after, making its first car just round the corner in Upper Villiers Street in 1899.

Across the town, the Electric Construction Company was soon dabbling in electric vehicles. The Stevens brothers were soon making fine motor-cycle engines, and then motor-cycles under the name AJS, and a Northampton motor-cycle manufacturer, Clyno, which used Stevens' engines, moved to Pelham Street to be near their supplier.

Sunbeamland, the home of Sunbeam bikes, began making motor-cycles in 1911, while Star began producing cars under the name Starling and Briton, as well as its own. By the First World War Star was the sixth largest car maker in Britain and Sunbeam were third.

Just before the war, Sydney Guy left the Sunbeam to start his own commercial vehicle factory on the other side of town in Park Lane, in time to pick up large military orders for his Guy trucks.

After the war Guy and Clyno joined Star and Sunbeam in building cars, and a host of motor-cycle manufacturers sprang up across Wolverhampton to join AJS, Sunbeam and Clyno, among them Diamond, Wolf and HRD. The Villiers company began making two stroke engines, and then across town next to Guy Motors, Henry Meadows was formed to make gearboxes and later, diesel engines.

The decline began in the late 1920s as one by one the major companies shut down, beginning with Clyno, and ending with the mighty Sunbeam in 1935.

Guy Motors remained the only large vehicle manufacturer, with Villiers and Meadows making engines.

These companies prospered and were joined by the Turner sports car company, at Wolverhampton Airport, but the second decline began with the closure of Henry Meadows in the early 1960s, and finishing with the closure of Guy Motors, despite it being still profitable, because it competed with other parts of British Leyland.

Ironically Guy had been taken over by Jaguar, which became part of British Leyland, and now it's Jaguar bringing jobs back to the city.

70s aces in Prince of Wales date

SEVENTIES chart-toppers line up at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock next year.

Tickets are already on sale for the concert which takes place in June.

The Leicester pop group, formed in 1973, had 10 top ten hits in the UK, with single Under the Moon of Love taking the number one slot in 1976.

Other big sellers include: Why Do Lovers Break Each Other's Hearts, Remember Then, I onder Why, Pretty Little Angel Eyes and Who Put the Bomp (In the Bomp-aBomp-aBomp).

Concerts

Richard Kay, manager of the Church Street theatre, said: "We've traditionally done quite a lot of 50s and 60s concerts over the years with acts such as The Searchers and The Tremeloes.

"Now a lot of 70s bands are reforming and the generations who came out to see the 60s shows are now being replaced by those who want to see 70s and 80s acts."

For ticket details, call the box office on 01543 578762.

Tributes at Tack

TOO Rex, a tribute to T-Rex, perform at the Tackeroo in Bracken Close, Brindley Heath tomorrow night (Friday). Admission is £7 and it will be followed on Saturday by a tribute to Journey, which costs £6. Call 01543 423124.

Blue all rise to occasion with a headline set at Judgestock

CHART-TOPPERS Blue will be playing at the three-day festival Judgestock in the heart of the Black Country at Sandwell Valley over August Bank Holiday weekend

Organisers have promised that next month's event will be bigger and better than ever with three stages featuring acts including a headline set from recently reunited boy band Blue, who had hits with All Rise, Too Close and If You Come Back.

Also on the bill is rocker Mitchel Emms, who recently featured on BBC TV show The Voice, along with various tribute acts, local bands and young people from Coneygre Arts in Tipton.

Support

The festival organised by Lee Judge has raised thousands for Macmillan Cancer Support over the years in memory of Simon Turton, a friend who lost his battle with cancer in 2011.

The 38-year-old who lives in West Bromwich said: "The festival is going to be huge. Previously, Judgestock has been a one-day event but this year we really wanted to put on a weekend festival to rival some of the bigger events."

Lee has raised close to £125,000 for various causes over the past 17 years. He added: "Last year we donated around £2,000 to Macmillan and we're looking to better that."

Festival organiser Lee Judge

The event, August 24-26, also support the Mayor of Sandwell's charities, Birmingham Midland Eye Centre and Better Understanding of Dementia in Sandwell.

Tickets cost £12 per day for adults or £30 for all three days. Children's tickets cost £6 or £15 three days (all plus booking fees), with under-5s free when accompanied by paying adult. For information see www.judgestock musicfestival.co.uk

Life is a Grand cabaret for Will

POP star Will Young is heading to Wolverhampton to take a lead role in the touring version of the recent West End hit production of Cabaret.

The raunchy, hard-hitting musical set in 1930s Germany, contrasting hedonistic lifestyles with the rise of the Nazis, will be performed at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre from November 26 to 30.

Will Young was nominated for a prestigious Olivier award for his portrayal of the comic yet sinister character Emcee. The 34-year-old rose to fame after winning the first Pop Idol contest in 2002, and still holds the record for the fastest selling debut single in British chart history with Evergreen.

As well as scoring four number one singles, he has pursued an acting career, appearing with Dame Judi Dench in the film Mrs Henderson Presents.

The new version of Cabaret, the story of Berlin nightclub singer Sally Bowles, features such popular songs as Money Makes The World Go Round, Maybe This Time and title song Cabaret. Tickets cost between £21.50 and £39.50, available on 01902 429212 or at www.grandtheatre.co.uk

Meanwhile, the 1960s heyday of crooners Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Jr is subject of tribute show Rat Pack Vegas Spectacular at the Grand on Sunday evening.

REVIEW

Fans lap up Felice despite unnerving stares at audience

Simon Felice and Dan Whitehouse, Glee Club, Birmingham.

AMERICAN singer/songwriter Simone Felice is certainly an unusual musician not least for the fact that he was once pronounced clinically dead.

However, having recovered from what was a brain aneurysm as a teenager, he has gone on to become a passionate musician, poet and author.

Felice from The Catskills, complete with hat and rather unnerving way of staring at his audience, opened with Dawn Brady's Son, from his self-titled album, followed by New York Times.

Fans also lapped up Hey Bobby Ray; Song for Pearl an upbeat country song dedicated to and about his daughter and then, for his partner You and I.

There was more than a touch of the Meat Loaf power ballad about Scarecrow which brought in the heavy metal sound too.

Towards the end he brought the support act, Dan Whitehouse back on stage to join in with Neil Young's Helpless.

The Wolverhampton singer/songwriter is maturing into a really fine performer and is certainly one to watch. His next album, Reaching for a State of Mind, will be officially launched on September 29 at the Crescent Theatre, Birmingham.

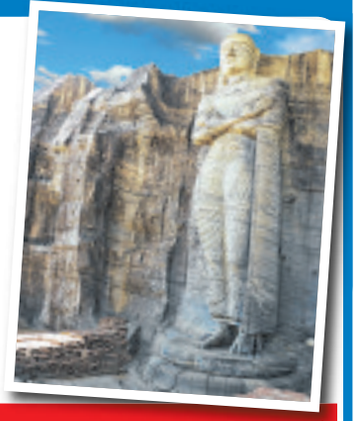
Sri Lanka

Join this comprehensive tour and discover the delights of old Ceylon with its sacred caves, ancient temples and lost cities, ending with two days relaxing on one of Sri Lanka's idyllic tropical beaches. Travel on return scheduled flights from London Heathrow and stay in charming hand-picked three-star hotels, with daily breakfast and dinner included.



One of the first adventures on the itinerary is the famous Pinnawela Elephant Orphanage which boasts a herd of over 75 animals from matriarchs to calves and their daily bath in the river provides a stunning photo opportunity.

Some of the other included tours are to the 600 foot granite tower called Sigiriya, or the Lion Rock, known for its ancient murals of 'cloud maidens'; to Kandy, Sri Lanka's last Royal capital; to the amazing cave temples of Dambulla, a UN World Heritage site; and to a well-known tea estate and spice garden, staying at the four-star Grand Hotel, originally the summer home of one of the Governors of Ceylon.

For a different sort of experience, two nights are reserved at the Safari Hotel, which has a pool, bar and restaurant overlooking the Tiffa Lake. Just 45 minutes from the Yala National Park this is the base for an early morning start to the jeep safari in the hope of seeing leopard, elephants, saltwater crocodiles, wild boar, sloth bears, monitor lizards and a huge variety of birdlife. Swann Nambotin

The Returned
Channel 4, 9pm

What is going on in the small French town? We've seen five episodes so far, and we're none the wiser. Instead, we're intrigued, gripped and, if truth be known, a little bit frustrated; it's time we learned a little bit more about what's going on, if only for our peace of mind. Pierre should certainly not be trusted – after all, he was present when little Victor and his family were slaughtered by burglars. Nevertheless, he remains a trusted member of the community, especially after he calls a meeting of the families affected by the school-bus accident.

Pick of the Week

Robin feels the baby blues on her home turf

Dark skies, brooding atmosphere, mystery and people in peril... We could be talking about Scandinavian noir, that breed of programmes that has taken British TV by storm over the past four years, or even Channel 4's moody French import, The Returned.

But no, we're describing New Zealand's attempt to get in on the broody drama act.

Top of the Lake has been co-written and co-directed by acclaimed Kiwi film-maker Jane Campion, whose previous work includes The Piano (for which she won a Best Screenplay Oscar, as well as the Palme d'Or), The Portrait of a Lady and Bright Star.

However, there is an international feel about the production, thanks to the presence in the cast of Americans Elisabeth Moss and Holly Hunter (who's reunited with Campion here for the first time since winning a Best Actress Academy Award for her performance in The Piano), Australians David Wenham and Thomas M Wright, and Scotsman Peter Mullan.

Fans of Mad Men may receive a jolt when they see Moss dressed down in the lead role after becoming used to watching her as the immaculately attired secretary-turned-copywriter Peggy Olson. The actress could hardly believe her luck when the script of Top of the Lake landed in her lap.

"I've always been a huge fan of Jane Campion, she does such incredible work, so many different kinds of things, but they always have her own sensibility about them," says Moss. "She is the epitome of the actor's director so getting the opportunity to learn from her and be challenged by her has been such an incredible part of this experience."

Moss plays Detective Robin Griffin, a child protection officer, who's recently returned to her home town to nurse her ailing mother.

When pregnant 12-year-old local girl Tui Mitcham is rescued from a frozen lake, it's Robin who's called in to take care of her case. Her investigation uncovers disturbing facts about the locals – not to mention aspects of her own life she'd rather forget.

"Robin is one of those incredible female roles that are really rare where you have a character who is strong and feminine, who has a lot to do and who has an incredible emotional journey," explains Moss.

"Jane understands the complexities of people, and she obviously has a gift for female characters that have those complexities, showing that they're not always right, they're not always wrong, they're not always beautiful – they're often ugly, they're not always strong but they're incredibly powerful. So for me it's sort of a dream role and it's very different from anything I've ever done."

So, why should we tune in?

"The story becomes Robin's search for herself as she's also diving into her own past that she's been running away from," claims Moss. "It's a detective story, it's a mystery, it has all these elements about it that are sort of tried and true.

"But what makes it different is it's got the Jane Campion touch. So everything is just a lot darker, a lot stranger, a lot more complicated than that."

You've sold it to us Elisabeth – bring on those dark skies!

Elisabeth Moss (centre) stars in Top of the Lake, Saturday, BBC2, 9.10pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
The Gadget Show
Channel 5, 8pm
Boys may love their toys, but who said gadgets have to be just for blokes? Rachel Riley seems to have a fine time working on this series, as she proves in assorted reports featuring Jason Bradbury. They investigate problems surrounding connecting to wi-fi; they also look at the latest routers, and build life-size remote-piloted superheroes modelled on themselves. Meanwhile, ex-Olympic triple jump champion Jonathan Edwards tests cycling computers, and globe-trotting reporter Pollyanna Woodward is off to Hungary where she tries out a one-third scale radio-controlled car. Plus, TGS veteran Jon Bentley will be trying out a range of tablet computers.

Run
Channel 4, 10pm
Nobody does misery quite like Olivia Colman. She's suffered wonderfully in Broadchurch and Tyrannosaur, but it's her episode of Accused, for which she won a Best Actress Bafta earlier this year, that will spring to mind while watching this new drama. Both feature Colman as a mother living on a bleak inner-city estate, and both have her facing issues involving her children. This time, Colman plays Carol, a tough single mother who is struggling to hold her Brixton-based family together. Her depressing situation deteriorates even further when her teenage sons commit a random act of violence that results in the death of a stranger. But just how far will she go to keep her children out of jail?

TUESDAY
Luther
BBC1, 9pm
The penultimate offering centres on the murder of two young hoodies shot at close range in what looks like a gangland crime, and another man who dies shortly after. The deceased all had criminal records, so it looks like a new killer with a personal vendetta against all past offenders is on the loose, and only one man can stop him. The trouble is, Luther (Idris Elba) struggles to control the increased public attention when the killer posts a video of himself online, calling for changes to the public justice system. The psychopath is on a mission and he's bound to strike again, but with so many possible victims, who will he target next?

WEDNESDAY
The Apprentice: The Final
BBC1, 8pm
It's nine years since this show's first run, and over the years we've seen Tim Campbell, Michelle Dewberry, Simon Ambrose, Lee McQueen, Yasmina Siadatan, Stella English, Tom Pellereau and Ricky Martin (not that one) hear those magic words "You're hired." Leah Totton, Jordan Poulton, Myles Mordaunt and Luisa Zissman, among others, have been great entertainment value this year. Who will manage to impress Lord Sugar and his team of advisers one final time this series? We haven't got a clue, but there is one way to find out. As ever, Nick Hewer and Karren Brady will be presiding over the drama as the final challenge is executed.

The Apprentice: The Final, Wednesday, BBC1, 8pm

Maxine Peake: Performance, Protest and Peterloo
BBC2, 10pm
At 38 years old, Maxine Peake has a sparkling CV that many actors twice her age would be envious of. So it's little wonder that with Manchester's International Festival now in its final week, the Beeb has decided to focus its attention on the gifted actress, who took on a huge role within it.

The festival has showcased a collection of world-class talent, theatrical premieres and ground-breaking musical performances – and among them was Ms Peake performing in Shelley's The Masque of Anarchy. Miranda Sawyer meets up with Maxine to discuss the poem.

THURSDAY
Live Golf: The Open Championship
BBC2, 9am
The world's finest golfers congregate at Muirfield in Gullane, East Lothian, for the opening day of what is one of the most prestigious events on the sport's calendar. Last year's tournament threw up its fair share of drama as Australian Adam Scott saw his form collapse at the end of the final round, allowing South African veteran Ernie Els to creep up the leaderboard and deny him his first Major title by a single stroke. Scott has since got that monkey off his back by tasting glory at this year's Masters, but Els will be feeling confident of retaining his trophy having won The Open on this course back in 2002.

The Briefs
ITV, 9pm
This intriguing series returns with another two-parter to give us an insight into British justice from the perspective of the defence. First up at Tuckers Solicitors in Manchester, we meet serial offender Kyle, accused of taking part in a violent street brawl, and of a house burglary – but he's no stranger to the legal advisors at the firm, in fact, they're representing him for the 34th time. Meanwhile, Alex faces a charge of causing criminal damage by scratching a car, a break from the norm for him, as he usually robs businesses.

FRIDAY
Coronation Street
ITV, 7.30pm
Rob and Tracy going into business together could be a recipe for disaster. After all, they're both ex cons, which is fine if they've learned their lessons, but given the recent silk theft from Underworld it seems they haven't. Little wonder Carla and Michelle are amazed by the news, and Peter should also worry because when Rob places £500 on an accumulator, he stands to lose around £35,000.

Bank offers backing for scheme

A RESIDENTIAL property business has completed a new housing development in Cannock using funding support from Lloyds TSB Commercial Banking.

Marshall Bell, of Chaplain Road, Cannock, which was established in 1981, is a family run business which builds quality homes in the area.

The company's latest project was a development on Old Fallow Road, which involved buuilding six semi-detached two-bedroom properties.

Business owners Marshall and Mandy Bell approached their long-term banking provider for the funding to support work at the site.

Houses are already been sold and a show home has now been opened.

The business is now making plans for its next project and has purchased a neglected working man's club in Cannock which it plans to redevelop into affordable housing.

Director Mrs Bell said: "Since we established the business our focus has always been to provide high quality housing which reflects the needs of people in the local area, which we believe is vital in today's housing market.

Materials

"It is important for us to invest in the local area and during the project we have trained up an apprentice builder, and have recently taken on a second who will be involved in future work.

"We also always try to source our materials and labour locally, bringing work to the region."

Adrian Francis-Lang, relationship manager at Lloyds TSB Commercial Banking, said: "Marshall Bell has built up a good reputation in the area for building quality homes which are popular with buyers.

"Marshall and Mandy's past experience in the residential property sector means they are well-known and trusted to bring quality properties to the area.

"We have built up a strong relationship with the business over the last 30 years, and when they came to us with their plans for this latest development we were pleased to work with them to ensure they had the support needed for the realisation of the project.

"Under the Funding for Lending Scheme we are giving all our small and medium-sized enterprise customers a one per cent discount for the life of their loans and we are committed to lending £5 billion to SMEs through the scheme this year."

Adrian Francis-Lang, of Lloyds TSB Commercial Banking, with Marshall and Mandy Bell at the new development off Old Fallow Road, Cannock

WHY USE C RESIDENTIAL TO SELL YOUR HOME?

We understand you may be thinking that all Estate Agents are the same and you will more than likely have invited a few agents out to see what fees they charge and what they can offer.
Below are just 3 reasons why we think you should speak with us but please feel free to contact any of our sales team to discuss what we can do for you

We maintain a strict NO SALE, NO CHARGE policy and even if you change your mind about selling we WILL NEVER try and charge our fee (even if we have agreed a sale and you have to pull out for personal reasons). People move house for many different reasons and sometimes their personal circumstances change and alter. With this in mind it is very important for us as a company that we should have NO HIDDEN FEES.

We sell more houses than anyone else in Rugeley !!!

We know that because an independent company assesses the market every quarter. In April 2013 C residential had 42.4% with the second agent having 13.6%.
In January 2013 C residential had 41.2% with the second agent having 11.8%

If you are still not convinced that you should try us then give us only 4 weeks to show you what we can do. We will not try and tie you into a long contract and if we don't impress you then you are free to walk away. All we ask is for a 4 week sole agency contract.
One last thing ..... if an agent is not charging VAT it is because they are not selling enough houses to reach the VAT threshold. Remember with C residential you ONLY PAY FOR RESULTS so the onus is on us as a company to sell your property.

GARDEN

Keeping the lawn fed and watered will help it glow

UNLESS already artificially watering your grass, the look of your lawn will reflect the previous weather.

If June has seen a fair amount of rain it should be looking good, but only if the grass was fed in spring. It will look even better in July if with a triple-action summer treatment to give the colour a boost and at the same time kill weeds and any moss.

The trusted brand choice of millions of gardeners each year is EverGreen Complete because it can be applied so easily either from a hand-held shaker container or a wheeled spreader.

The dividing line between the two is usually drawn if your lawn is larger than 100 square metres (120 sq. yards).

Up to that point it will just need one handy shaker jar to treat the average sized lawn, but any bigger and it becomes economical to invest in a wheeled spreader that will spread bags of granules evenly and accurately over large areas.

With a bit of effort you can eep your lawn looking good all through the summer

Adjustable

Most economical is the EverGreen Easy Spreader + with a wide hopper that treats a strip that is 53cm (21") wide. If the intention is to apply a wide variety of materials to your lawn, than an adjustable spreader like the Even-Green Drop Spreader is the one to use. The settings can be varied easily and gives accurate application.

If the soil is dry, water the lawn a couple of day before treating it with any dry granules. This will reduce any risk of scorching, and ensure the weeds are actively growing so they readily absorb the weedkillers present in each tiny granule.

Pick a dry day so the granules are not washed off the broad leaves of the weeds and have time to kill them off. For the same reason keep children and pets off the lawn until the granules have been watered in by rain or by hose or sprinler two days after application. Avoid scattering granules over plants in nearby borders and leave at least a couple of days before and after application before mowing.

Wearing

As the summer runs it may be regular walking across the lawn in the same place is wearing a natural path.

The lawn grasses that are trampled regularly will naturally become thin and short, exposing open soil ready for the invasion of weeds.

This sort of action will ruin the look of a good lawn and indicates that a permanent path is long overdue. There will be attractive stepping stones at your local nursery or garden centre.

Place them on the top of the grass to get the spacing correct – not too close together and not too far apart – so that stepping is natural.

Cut round the edges of each stone with a spade or half moon edging tool. Lift the stepping stone and using a spade, lift out a section of the turf. Check the ground is level underneath and no stone is providing a fulcrum on which the stone can rock. Place the paving stone into the hole, checking that it is just below the level of the lawn for easy mowing.

Superb set to stay ahead of the field

The new Skoda Superb has seen design changes including a more sculptured look

BUILDING on the successful formula of space, refinement and generous levels of standard equipment, Skoda's latest generation Superb packs all the familiar qualities that's already convinced so many to sign on the dotted line.

Improvements to the Superb might not be immediately obvious, however Skoda has focused on the things that matter: cleaning up the engine range, sharpening up the car's looks to mirror that of the Rapid and latest Octavia, and adding some welcome extra kit.

Although the cosmetic changes are subtle, out has gone the slightly generic Skoda design, replaced by a more sculptured look fore and aft.

Inside the car's cabin it is largely business as usual. Detailed trim and material changes have done a good job of ensuring it remains a plush environment for all occupants, though.

The Superb's plush interior

As before, this Superb's main selling point is its cabin space. Extended in all the right areas, it also means those in the rear can stretch out thanks to the generous amount of legroom offered.

In the influential premium saloon class, rear space is important. Superb's extra inches do much to create an appealing executive ambience. And that's before you consider the car's voluminous boot.

You won't be paying executive prices for the Superb, though. As with the previous generation car, the sums involved are modest for something of this size and opulence. And Skoda is hoping that its generosity in the equipment department will prompt buyers to place the Superb high on their shopping lists, especially as similarly priced rivals offer less space and kit for similar money.

Generous

With four models to choose from (S, SE, Elegance and top-spec), the act of making a choice is no longer a simple one as there's a generous spread of standard kit even on the lower-spec models now.

Furthermore, this ensures the car remains competitive in the crowded company car market when value for money is key.

With alloy wheels, air conditioning, Bluetooth, electric windows and mirrors, chilled glovebox and seven airbags forming part of the Superb's core standard kit list, even the entry-level S model is hard to ignore.

SE models gain larger alloy wheels, a touch-screen audio screen and a greater choice of audio inputs, rear parking sensors plus a host of detailed interior and exterior trim accents.

The move up to Elegance sees a big uplift in specification, with xenon headlights, bigger alloy wheels, touch-screen navigation, heated and powered front seats, leather upholstery and a heated windscreen.

Skoda's traditional flagship Laurent & Klement model adds front parking sensors, more leather, heated rear seats, an upgraded audio unit, TV tuner, privacy glass and gloss black cabin trim.

Skoda's generosity also extends to its engine range, greater efficiencies should mean you pay less at the pumps and to the taxman.

Some models benefit from cuts to CO2 emissions as high as 19 per cent, while Skoda boasts that every model delivers more miles per gallon and emits less at the tailpipe.

Buyers can choose from three petrol and three diesel engines, plus manual and DSG gearboxes depending on the particular model. Unusually in this sector there's also the option of all-wheel drive on selected variants, which will no doubt add a welcome all-weather dimension to the Superb for some buyers.

With diesel power the mainstay of the range, the choice ranges from a 1.6-litre 105 horsepower unit to a 2.0-litre unit in 140 and 170 horsepower guise. Petrol fans can choose between 1.4 and 1.8-litre units offering 125hp and 160hp respectively, plus a 3.6-litre V6 producing 260hp.

The well-weighted major controls and slick actions of the minor switchgear help boost the cabin's already impressive ambience, while the smooth-shifting transmissions – both manual and DSG – cement the car's place in the premium sector.

Just like with the previous incarnations of the Superb, Skoda has again produced a refined, spacious, enjoyable-to-drive mid-size executive car that, in reality, offers so much more than the established competition.

With a competitive pricing strategy plus innovative technology and good looks, Skoda has a car that continues to live up to its name.

The Lexus CT 200 hybrid can give good financial benefits to the business driver

The Lexus 200 has a small boot for the size of the car

Laid-back Lexus all set to be hybrid hit

By Matt Kimberley

YOU would think that if you matched up the excellence of Lexus with their superb build quality and refined vehicles and allied that back to Toyota and their hybrid technology you could spawn a vehicle that would tick all of the boxes that you require.

That is what I expected to find when I spent a week in company with the Lexus CT 200.

Lexus have combined a 4-cylider petrol engine with a displacement of 1798cc producing a not too adventurous 98 bhp, to this they have allied an electric motor which is producing a similar amount of brake horse power, add the two together and you end up with a vehicle producing in the region of 134bhp, quite a reasonable power output for a lightweight.

This is sufficient to give a top speed of 112 mph and a 0 – 60 in a not too excessive 10.3 seconds.

Lexus claim outrageous figures for fuel consumption, for example 70.6 on the extra urban, regrettably my time with the vehicle I could achieve nothing like this and I do question the methods used by some of the manufacturers to obtain them.

The computer suggested that I had achieved 48 mpg in a multitude set of driving conditions.

There can be little doubt that one of the big features of ownership of this particular vehicle is the benefit to the business user and the company car buyer.

They will instantly have the kudos of having a Lexus as their company car but the CO2 emissions are so extremely low that the financial savings will be quite good.

They do come at a price as the vehicle is not overly generous in its space but it is the premium badge that you are paying for.

The CT200 is available in 3-trim levels badged as SE1, SE L and Premium.

Refined

The interior, as you would expect from the Lexus brand, is very civilised and extremely well refined.

The interior was somewhat busy, there were an awful lot of buttons and certain aspects were a little difficult to understand.

The satellite navigational system for example seemed to be a little outdated, a particular road that I travel on quite often had a speed limit change over 12 months ago but the Lexus still insisted in telling me that the limit was 60 mph on this particular road when in fact it varied between 30, 40 and 50 mph in places.

I did like the factor that all passengers had plenty of head, leg and shoulder room, but the boot space is not overly generous and it was difficult to get two suit cases in. The driving dynamics of the vehicle left me wanting a little bit.

In its automatic option when you pulled away from a junction in eco drive mode the electrics and the petrol are working in conjunction with each other but there were many occasions when I felt that the vehicle was an extremely lethargic performer, you have to reappraise your driving style totally if you are in the electric mode.

This is not a vehicle for the people who want to be rushing around, it is a vehicle for people who want to be economic in their driving style and it is also a vehicle for people who are green conscious.

Congestion

It does however make for an extremely relaxed laid back driving style.

Free road tax will be a bonus and if you do venture in to London the congestion charges will be minimal if not free dependant on what happens in the not too distant future.

The level of equipment was as you would expect on the high side, I did enjoy the heated front seats especially in the sub-arctic conditions that we experienced whilst I was in possession of the vehicle.

The Bluetooth worked after wading through the 250+ page manual and talking of manuals over 700 pages for a driver's manual is I believe a little on the excessive side.

The satellite navigation system as previously mentioned was easy to operate but it does come at a premium price and at £1,995 I think I would revert back to my little Tom Tom.

The vehicle is an imposing small vehicle and the competition is the Audi A3 or the BMW 3 Series, but the Lexus does score heavily in the economics of ownership and huge green credentials.

Prices for the Lexus vary between £21,995 for the S level and top out at £30,995 for the Premier derivative.

The Vauxhall Insignia has been given an update, with style changes and more efficient engines

New styling to update the Vauxhall Insignia

THE Vauxhall Insignia has been given a mid-life update with new styling, more efficient engines and an internet-connected infotainment system.

In addition a new entry-level model starts from only £16,279; almost £2,000 less than the cheapest model in the outgoing range, making the spacious Insignia an even more accessible family car.

Other headline changes include a new diesel engine with CO2 emissions of 99g/km, which means that Insignias equipped with it can escape road tax completely under the current vehicle excise duty rules. The engine recorded fuel economy of 76mpg under the standard European test cycle.

There are also two new four-cylinder petrol engines from the SIDI family first unveiled in the Cascada convertible. A 168bhp 1.6-litre option is joined by a new 246bhp choice for those looking for an Insignia with more urge.

Inside the cabin is a completely redesigned centre console and instrument cluster.

Cluster

The centre console has been simplified and now has fewer buttons for more intuitive operation of common functions, such as air conditioning and infotainment, while the instrument cluster has new dials and a fresh, hi-tech look.

Larger, higher-resolution colour infotainment and instrument cluster displays are optional across the range but are expected to be a popular upgrade.

Eight trim levels will be available, starting with Design and rising through Energy, Limited Edition, SRi, SRi VX-Line, SE, Tech Line and Elite, although not all engines are available at every trim level so entry prices for higher trim levels are in some cases lower than for inferior grades.

Fuel-efficient Zafira Tourer just the job for those family holidays

Vauxhall's Zafira Tourer is ideal for taking the family on holiday with plenty of comfort and good fuel economy

WITH the school holidays fast approaching, families in Ludlow are turning their attention to summer travels.

However, with the cost of fuel on the rise, the thought of taking a road trip can seem a costly proposition.

Fortunately, following the recent introduction of a state-of-the-art, fuel efficient turbo diesel engine to Vauxhall's family-friendly Zafira Tourer range,Vauxhall dealer Ludlow Motors is on hand with a model that not only offers powerful performance and superior space, but highly competitive fuel economy too.

Available to order at the dealership on Bromfield Road,the model is powered by 2.0-litre 195PS diesel engine and achieves a combined fuel economy figure of just 50.4mpg, thanks to its Start/Stop technology.

Peter Hughes, Retail Operator at Ludlow Motors, said: "We're pleased to be able to offer families in the area a fuel-efficient vehicle that is ideal for family travel and that boasts a spacious interior alongside unprecedented levels of flexibility.

"What's more, Vauxhall is currently the only manufacturer to offer a sophisticated BiTurbo engine on a seven-seat MPV, which provides a perfect blend of high performance, impressive fuel economy and premium class quality."

The introduction of the BiTurbo expands the Zafira Tourer's broad power train offer, which now comprises four diesel and two petrol engines.

The sequential twin-turbo diesel addition to the line-up gives emissions of just 149g/km CO2, offers a maximum speed of 135mph and can achieve 0-60mph in just 8.5 seconds, making it one of the fastest diesel-powered, seven-seat MPVs on the market.

The model is ideal for pleasing a crowd, thanks to extra flexibility provided by the new generation Flex7 seating system.

This includes the unique 'lounge seating' functionality, which gives passengers an unprecedented amount of space in the second row.

The Zafira Tourer BiTurbois priced from £27,685 comes with a choice of SE, SRi or Elite trims, as well as a range of options including Flex Ride adaptive chassis control system, AFL adaptive forward lighting system and a panoramic windscreen.

Innovative

The Zafira Tourer BiTurbo is also ideal for those who wish to drive away at a monthly payment that fits their budget, thanks to Vauxhall's innovative Flexible Finance scheme.

With zero per cent APR Representative, no minimum deposit and a payment term varying between 24 to 60 months, Flexible Finance makes it easy for motorists to buy their chosen Vauxhall vehicle at a cost that suits them.

And like all new Vauxhalls, the Zafira Tourer BiTurbo comes with a warranty which could now last a lifetime.

Available to the first owner of all new Vauxhalls, the warranty is valid for the lifetime of the vehicle up to a maximum of 100,000 miles.

To discover more about the Zafira Tourer BiTurbo or to book a test drive, visit Ludlow Motors at Burway Trading Estate, go online to www.ludlowmotors.co.uk or call 01584 876444.

Motoring

The new option pack is available on Premier versions of the Lexus IS 250 and IS 300h

Option pack available for Lexus IS saloon

FOLLOWING the launch of the new IS saloon, Lexus is giving customers the opportunity to add a suite of advanced safety features and driving aids to their vehicle with an additional option pack.

Available exclusively for the flagship Premier versions of the new IS 250 and full hybrid IS 300h, the £1,540 pack adds Pre-Crash Safety system (PCS), Adaptive Cruise Control (ACC), Lane Departure Assist (LDA) and Automatic High Beam (AHB).

The PCS system uses a millimetre-wave radar sensor that operates over a 20-degree scanning radius to detect obstacles in the vehicle's path, even when cornering.

If there is a high risk of a collision, PCS will alert the driver with a buzzer and warning on the multimedia display, activate the Pre-Crash seatbelt pretensioners, and, when the driver begins to brake, provide Pre-Crash brake assist to supplement the braking effort. If the driver does not brake and a collision becomes inevitable, the Pre-Crash brake will automatically apply the brakes to reduce impact speed.

Camera

The Adaptive Cruise Control can operate on a set constant speed or monitor the speed of the car in front and keep a prescribed distance, braking and accelerating safely and automatically.

The Lane Departure Assist system monitors road markings using a camera mounted on the rear-view mirror. If it detects the vehicle is deviating from its lane without the turn signals being used, it alerts the driver by sounding a buzzer and showing a warning on the instrument display.

The Automatic High Beam function for the headlamps maximises night-time visibility by automatically switching to low beam when the system's camera detects the lights of an oncoming vehicle, or one travelling ahead.

This means the high beam can be used for the safe maximum time.

Seat takes wraps off first hybrid prototype

Seat has unveiled details about its first hybrid vehicle, the plug-in Leon Verde prototype

SEAT has taken the wraps off its first hybrid vehicle in the shape of the plug-in Leon Verde prototype.

The fully-working test vehicle is based on a normal Leon with a 120bhp 1.4-litre turbocharged petrol engine under the bonnet, but the second part of the drivetrain comprises a 101bhp electric motor and enough battery capacity for 31 fully-electric miles of driving.

Together, the powerplants give the car a maximum output of 168bhp, but according to tests completed by Seat using the official European fuel economy testing guidelines, the Leon Verde achieves a 176.6mpg average and emits just 36g/km of CO2.

Although it is equipped with a mere 40-litre fuel tank, the car's total range with a full complement of unleaded and battery charge is still more than 500 miles.

The Leon Verde is the culmination of a four-year project to introduce an electric vehicle into Spain. A further 15 Spanish companies joined Seat in the venture, including infrastructure providers to ensure that future Leon Verde owners will have remote recharging options.

A smart charging system within the hybrid Leon can be programmed to only activate when electricity falls to a cheaper, overnight rate, potentially helping owners to keep costs down and reducing strain on the electricity grid.

It is hoped that the newest Leon will be able to kick-start a new industry sector in Spain, as well as rejuvenating what has become a stagnant car market by encouraging more electric car-makers into the region.

Iconic Golf hits 30 million milestone

The 30 millionth Volkswagen Golf has rolled off the production line at the Wolfsburg plant in Germany

THE iconic family-sized Volkswagen Golf has just reached another major milestone, with the 30 millionth example having rolled off the production line at the giant Wolfsburg plant in Germany.

Since the original Golf first appeared in 1974 it has gone through six further iterations, with today's seventh-generation model offering levels of comfort, performance and economy that were beyond unheard of 39 years previously.

The 30 millionth Golf was a Bluemotion TDI, the most fuel-efficient Golf ever produced with an official combined consumption figure of 88.3mpg.

This particular example went on display for during the factory open day. Professor Martin Winterkorn, chairman of the board of management of Volkswagen AG, says: "The history of the Golf is also the history of automotive progress.

Standard

With technologies such as the safe front-wheel drive of the first Golf, the debut of the TDI in the third Golf, ESC (Electronic Stability Control) and the dual clutch gearbox of the fourth Golf and the standard Automatic Post-Collision Braking System of the new generation, this car has continued to democratise progress.

"An optimum of safety, comfort and driving fun are no longer a question of money thanks to the Golf. And so our best-seller lives up to the Volkswagen name."

Service is included.

Butler and Chambers crucial – Smith

Dean Smith

DEAN Smith has launched his hunt for new players convinced he has already made his two most important signings.

The Walsall boss regards the re-signing of Andy Butler and Adam Chambers as crucial to his team's well-being.

The Saddlers were in the Caribbean for a week to continue their pre-season preparations with training and three games against Trinidad & Tobago opposition.

They are still digesting the shock of losing their three most successful front players last season – Febian Brandy, Will Grigg and Jamie Paterson. But Smith is determined the setbacks will not derail the progress made last season and believes in his key central defender and anchor midfield man he has the players to bond together a new force.

Saddlers

Smith persuaded Butler to sign a new one-year contract and Chambers a two-year deal and he said: "As far as I am concerned the two biggest signings we needed to make were always going to be Andy Butler and Adam Chambers.

"They are two fantastic professionals who the other lads look to for inspiration and leadership. Their professionalism is second to none and their presence in the dressing room meant they were always the most important ones for me to sign."

Butler insisted the club is on course to continue its progress under Smith. He said: "It's nice to have familiar faces coming into the changing rooms rather than the six players we had at one stage last year.

"Playing wise I think we are one of the best football teams in the league and that is thank to the gaffer and Richard O'Kelly who want to play football."

Walsall's travelling party were at a welcome dinner last week before a double training session – starting at 7.30am to dodge the heat.

Coventry City, meanwhile, have reportedly agreed a ground-sharing deal with Northampton Town for next season.

The Sky Blues, who are believed to have held talks with Walsall about playing at the Banks's Stadium, are now said to have reached an agreement with the Cobblers.

The temporary move to Sixfields will need to be approved by the Football League.

Two goals in a minute as Pitmen battle back

HEDNESFORD TOWN opened their pre-season campaign with a 5-2 win at AFC Wulfrunians.

Rob Smith's teamsheet featured several trialists, including former Leeds United midfielder Simon Johnson and two ex-Kidderminster players in striker Robbie Thompson-Brown and goalkeeper Scott Plumpton.

The Pitmen were given a tough test by last year's West Midlands Premier champions, who went ahead in the opening 10 minutes when Jake Webb capitalised on sloppy defending. But Hednesford, who are preparing for the step up to Conference North this season, hit back with two goals in a minute.

First, Neil Harvey levelled matters when he swept home, before Jamey Osborne put the visitors ahead.

Teenager

Things got even better soon after when teenager Charlie Ntamark fired home on 35 minutes.

When Elliot Durrell thumped home a 34th-minute penalty the game threatened to become a rout.

But Wulfrunians battled hard after the break and got their reward when Jack Bunn netted to reduce the deficit, before Durrell rounded off the scoring five minutes from time.

The Pitmen welcome Sutton Coldfield Town to Keys Park this Saturday for their first home game of the campaign, kick off is at 3pm.

Kris Taylor, Michael Lennon and John Disney are expected to be involved after missing Tuesday's fixture as Rob Smith continues to survey his options ahead of the start of his side's Conference North sojourn in little over a month's time. The Wulfrunian's next trip is to Bilston College to face good friends and near neighbours Wolverhampton Casuals on the 3G pitch on this Saturday with kick off at 1.30pm kick off.

Hednesford Town

Hednesford: Crane (Plumpton sub at 53mins), Melbourne, Campion (c), Barnes (Bailey 45), Francis, MacPherson, Osborne (Green 53), Durrell, Harvey (Rey 45), Ntamark (Johnson 53), Woolfe (Thompson-Brown 53)

● Stafford Rangers continued their preparations for the new campaign with a convincing 5-2 win at Congleton Town.

Danny Quinn opened the scoring for Greg Clowes' side inside the opening five minutes. Jack Langston scored a brace, while Chris Flynn was also on target. Rangers continue their friendly schedule on Saturday when they visit neighbours Stafford Town.

Six of the best as Hednesford girls defend title

HEDNESFORD United Under-13 girls returned to Silverdale for the Soccer Sevens to defend their crown from last year.

In contrasting conditions the sun was beating down this year and the competition from the other teams was just as hot.

Several league winners from around the country had entered the tournament including Bedworth Eagles and Gornal Girls.

Hednesford though had just six players against the other teams' seven and with no dedicated keeper, the girls rotated to cover the nets.

Switched

Samantha Fawdon and Katie Smith were outstanding as they switched roles as were Taylor Gillis and Sophie Liggins.

Lois Brindley with Molly Bruton ran riot in the opposition's half while also picking up the shortfall in numbers.

Hednesford topped the group stages and didn't lose a game.

They breezed through the quarter final 7-0 against Hilton Girls to setup a semi final against Bedworth Eagles.

Last year Hednesford clinched victory with a gruelling penalty shoot-out, this year they ripped Bedworth apart with their best performance of the tournament, winning 4-0.

Hednesford are looking for a goalkeeper and experienced midfield players to join their team for next season.

Long-time football chairman dies at 71

THE chairman of Birmingham County Football Association has died.

Roger Wood, aged 71, was the leader of the BCFA for 22 years, he died on July 1.

Mr Wood, also an FA council member, was a hugely popular figure in the game and his dedication to his role of Birmingham County FA Chairman was second to none. He leaves behind his wife Gill.

He was described as a real advocate of grassroots football and always looking for ways to push the game forward.

Mike Pennick, Chief Executive at BCFA said: "Roger has been the heartbeat of this County FA for 22 years and a constant source of support and guidance for us all.

"He truly will be missed by everyone involved in football."

His funeral will take place on Thursday July 18 at 2.15pm at Perry Barr Crematorium, Walsall Road, Perry Barr, Birmingham, B42 2LR with a reception afterwards at the Conservative Pub, Newton Road, Great Barr, Birmingham, B43 6BN. Flowers can be sent to the Co-operative Funeral Directors on 606 Walsall Road, B42 1EZ.

Firsts lose out again

ON the hottest day of the season so far and in perfect batting conditions, Cannock's 1st XI batsmen failed dismally once again.

An array of irresponsible strokes resulted in the visitors being bowled out for a miserable 76.

Only Andy Le Feaver (16), Carl Whyte (12) and Ed Fleet (19) who put on 26 for the ninth wicket with Jack Twigger (6 no) troubled the Penn bowlers.

In reply Penn needed just 19 overs to win the game.

Hayes line up five friendlies

HEATH Hayes will be playing five pre-season friendlies at home over the coming weeks starting this Saturday against Brocton, kickoff 3pm.

On July 17 they host Chasetown, at 7.30pm, then on July 25 Stafford Rangers, at 7.30pm, July 27 Wednesfield 3pm and July 30 Rushall Olympic at 7.30pm.

Bulldogs in charge to triumph

Coventry Bears A 10
Birmingham Bulldogs 88

BIRMINGHAM Bulldogs Rugby League FC registered their third win on the trot against a game but youthful Coventry Bears "A" side.

Despite an early slip-up as Coventry loose forward Conor Slater went over, Bulldogs dominated and ran in 16 tries.

First-half scores came from Jermaine Bernard, Nic Evans, Curtis Harris and Andrew Burton with Sam Shepherd adding to each.

Winger Joe Williams went over in the corner, followed by Dan Ventrella. Second touchdowns for Bernard and Williams were followed by a try from Adam Bromley, Shepherd adding four more goals to give Birmingham a 52-4 half-time lead.

In the second half a slick assist from Baldock put Adam Walker over on the right. Skipper Matt Dudley weighed in with a brace, the first goaled by Shepherd who also added to a second try for Ventrella.

Soon after, Burton crossed for his second touchdown.

Coventry never gave up and Slater went over for his second score, full back George Rae adding the goal.

In the final minutes Brum posted two more scores with a try for Matt Beattie, goaled by Shephard plus a second for Walker as Bulldogs enhanced their play-off chances.

Five new players join squad

RUSHALL Olympic are into the second week of pre-season training before their third season in the Evo-Stick Northern Premier League Premier Division.

Graydon back for Saddlers' milestone

LEGENDARY Walsall manager Ray Graydon will return to the Banks's Stadium on July 31 as guest of honour at the Saddlers' 125th anniversary match against Villa.

The 65-year-old, who twice led Walsall to promotion to England's second tier, has been invited by the Walsall Football Supporters Trust to attend the pre-season friendly.

Former winger Graydon played for Villa between 1971 and 1977 and scored 67 goals in 193 games, scoring the winner in the 1975 League Cup Final.

A Trust statement said: "The trust board are thrilled to announce that 'Sir' Ray Graydon and his wife will be appearing at the Banks's Stadium on Wednesday July 31 as guests. "

● Walsall kicked off their pre-season tour in Trinidad with a 3-1 success against Stokey Vale at the weekend.

Ben George opened the scoring before Dominic Munchen levelled. Second-half strikes from trialist Gem Gordon and Kieron Morris secured victory for Saddlers.

Girls help out FA with coaching

Eight of the top community coaches from around the country made it through to the final and put the girls through their paces. The winner is yet to be announced.

Chairman of Diamonds Mic Sharrod said: "It was a great honour for the club to again be invited by the FA to provide the girls at the event and it was a great experience.

"The girls taking part met Gary Neville and Gareth Southgate who were part of the judging panel and they were given a guided tour of the facility."

Anyone interested in joining Diamonds next season in the U-10 category through to U-16 and ladies should call 01543 254069.

Sports tips from Team GB rugby captain

Paralympic rugby captain Steve Brown with students, Alex Matthews, aged 17, and Jess Glendinning, 14

YOUNGSTERS were able to try out a new sport when guest Paralympic star Steve Brown paid a visit.

Team GB wheelchair rugby player and captain Brown was on hand to dish out the awards after pupils from two academies went head-to-head in a sports day competition at Rugeley Leisure Centre.

Students from years eight and nine at Hagley Park and Fair Oak academies took part, alongside pupils from Northampton, Stoke and Coventry schools.

The Creative Education Academies Trust day of competitive sport at the Burnthill Lane leisure centre saw the pupils compete in a range of track and field events, as well as othe sports like football, rounders, badminton and swimming.

Sports wheelchairs were offered on loan for the event by the London Wheelchair Rugby Club at the Aspire National Training Centre at Stanmore at Brown's request

Notoriety

This allowed several students to try out the sport that rapidly gained notoriety in the 2012 Paralympic Games as 'murder ball'.

Michelle Dix, director of sport at the Rugeley academies, said: "It was fantastic to see schools from across the Midlands coming together. It was such an exciting tournament and the students all performed exceptionally well."

Brown was left paralysed from the chest down following a 12ft fall from a first-floor balcony while working as an area manager for a holiday company in Cologne.

He was made captain of the GB team at the European Championships in 2011, a role he repeated at London 2012.

Before presenting the medals and trophies, Brown gave an inspirational talk to the competitors.

Firsts put squeeze on to stay top of league

Penkridge CC 1st XI –233 Quatt CC 1st XI – 205-8
Penkridge winning draw

AT the halfway point in the season Penkridge remain top of the league, but just 18 points separate the top three clubs in the Birmingham Division Three table.

Penkridge entertained Quatt on Saturday and were made to dig deep as they collected a winning draw. After being asked to bat, Penkridge made a terrible start losing their first wicket with the very first ball of the day.

Ben Holmes (57) and Ronnie Hassan (41) led the fight back but Penkridge lost regular wickets and at 187-7 were in some trouble.

However, an excellent partnership between Shafiq Ahmed (29) and Kev Baker (19) saw them post a reasonable score of 233.

In reply Quatt started positively and at 175-3 looked favourites to win. But an inspired 17-over spell from Attiq Chishti (2-55) and Shafiq Ahmed (3-58) changed the course of the match and as wickets fell, Penkridge put the squeeze on.

In the end Penkridge had to settle for a winning draw as Quatt finished on 205-8.

Quatt 2nd XI – 256-4
Penkridge 2nd XI –258-7
Penk won by three wkts

Penkridge 2nd team travelled to Quatt and came away with a victory in a thoroughly entertaining game.

After winning the toss and opting to field, Penkridge made steady progress but some late big hitting allowed Quatt to post 256-4 in their 50 overs.

In reply Penkridge made a good start with Chad Clarke (58) and Rob Lawrence (36) putting on more than 80 for the first wicket.

Cricket

However, as wickets fell so did the scoring rate, until Usman Khan (47) and Zahoor Iqbal (47) added crucial runs to secure a Penkridge win with one ball remaining.

Penkridge 3rd XI – 264-7
Rugeley 1st XI – 173-9
Penkridge winning draw

Penkridge thirds came away with the majority of the points as they entertained Rugeley 1st.

Batting first, Penkridge made 264-7, with Mo Hassan hitting 76 and Mohammed Shafiq 68.

Rugeley were never in the game as they lost their first five wickets for less than 50.

However, Penkridge were left frustrated as they couldn't claim the final wicket, Rugeley finishing on 173-9.

Coseley 3rd XI –262-5
Penkridge 4th XI – 94
Coseley won by 168 runs

Penkridge fourths went down to a heavy defeat as they were skittled for just 94 inside 30 overs in reply to Coseley's impressive 262-5.

Ex-Wolves skipper Craddock hands out awards

FORMER Wolves skipper Jody Craddock handed over the trophies at a football tournament held at the League One club's training ground.

Youngsters from Cannock were among those on the ball in the contest, aimed at under-16s and under-19s players.

It marked the culmination of Sanctuary Housing's Football and Fitness project and took place at the Sir Jack Hayward Training Ground on June 29.

Teams from Sheffield, London, Hull, Southend and Stoke-on-Trent were also represented in the five-a-side tournament Sheffield winning the junior title and Port Vale the elder group.

Craddock, who spent a decade at Molineux before retiring last season, presented the trophies. All players were also awarded a medal and certificate.

Through the project, youngsters from Cannock have been participating in free football sessions in their local community delivered by professional Wolves coaches and have been able to develop their skills, improve physical health and wellbeing, and increase their confidence and self esteem.

The tournament brought the final whistle down on Sanctuary's Football and Fitness project and also marked the launch of the Sanctuary in Sport programme.

Starting this month, it will see Sanctuary working in partnership with organisations across the country to provide free activities to stay active.

Players are warned to fasten their seatbelts

WOLVES have been warned to fasten their seatbelts and be ready for a high-tempo game under new boss Kenny Jackett.

Ex-Watford right-back Darren Bazeley is the most notable former Wolves player to have had a taste of the new Molineux head coach's methods.

Football development manager for New Zealand Football Federation and head coach for the Kiwis' Under-17s World Cup campaign, Bazeley came through the ranks at Vicarage Road as Jackett's playing career ended through injury in 1990.

As coach and player respectively under Graham Taylor, the pair won back-to-back promotions as Watford climbed back to the top flight in the late 1990s before Bazeley joined Wolves after 239 appearances for the Hornets.

Bazeley, who played 80 times for Wolves in three years before a spell at Walsall, believes fans and players will respond to Jackett's style of play.

"I'm sure he will create a hard-working, positive, high-tempo team," Bazeley said.

Museum -168
Stafford rd A -185

STAFFORD Rd A bowls team took on Museum at Beacon Park which looked like it was going to a very good game.

Stafford had not lost a game so far and Museum have not been beaten on home turf.

Captain Hayley Scott led the way with a 21-10 win followed by a 21-18 win for John platt.

Trevor Jeynes was unlucky to lose 21-20 while Jackie squires bowled brilliantly unfortunately losing out 21-18.

Pat broadhurst 21-9 steadied the score and gave Stafford a slight lead.

With all to play for and three games to go. Kelton Scott (21-18) and Brian Arnold (21-20) won closely but with ken Fencott winning (21-9) it saw Stafford be the first team to beat Museum at home.

Note of caution on new season

HEDNESFORD Town boss Rob Smith insists consolidation is the aim for his newly-promoted side as they prepare for the Conference North – as hotshot Elliott Durrell prepares to commit his future to Keys Park.

The Pitmen aim to maintain the momentum that saw them win the Evo-Stik Northern Premier play-offs, the Staffordshire Senior Cup and the Birmingham Senior Cup.

But Smith sounded a note of caution. He said: "The main aim this season is to just establish ourselves in the league."

The Pitmen have a busy first week, starting at Stalybridge Celtic on Saturday, August 17, before home games against Leamington on the Tuesday and Oxford City the following Saturday.

Smith knows the step up will be tricky, but is looking forward to it. "It doesn't matter who we face first, it was always going to be difficult," he said.

Midfielder Durrell is a priority signing after scoring 35 goals in 59 appearances for the Pitmen last season. Smith said: "Hopefully he'll sign before our game this week."

Hednesford are back in pre-season training in preparation for their first friendly on Tuesday against AFC Wulfrunians of the Midland Alliance. Full 2013/14 fixtures below.

Signings are most crucial

DEAN Smith has launched his hunt for new players convinced he has already made his two most important signings.

The Walsall boss regards the re-signing of Andy Butler and Adam Chambers as crucial.

Smith is determined the loss of Febian Brandy, Will Grigg and Jamie Paterson will not derail the progress made last season and believes in his key central defender and anchor midfield man he has the players to bond together a new force.

Smith persuaded Butler to sign a new one-year contract and Chambers a two-year deal and he said: "As far as I am concerned the two biggest signings we needed to make were Andy Butler and Adam Chambers.

"They are two fantastic professionals who the other lads look to for inspiration and leadership."

Hitman Hewitt given tour chance to shine

KEEPER Richard O'Donnell and striker Troy Hewitt are among the players on trial at Walsall.

Former Chesterfield stopper O'Donnell and hitman Hewitt, who was released by QPR at the end of last season, have both been taken by the Saddlers on their pre-season tour of the Caribbean.

Smith is eager to bolster his forward line following the loss of Febian Brandy, Will Grigg and Jamie Paterson in the past fortnight and 23-year-old Hewitt, who made appearances on loan for both Bury and Colchester United last season, has been given his chance to shine.

The Saddlers are also in desperate need of a goalkeeper having used no fewer than four loan signing last term. Youngster Liam Roberts is the only senior keeper currently on the books.

O'Donnell began his career at Sheffield Wednesday but made just 15 senior appearances for the Owls before switching to Chesterfield last summer. The 24-year-old played 14 times for the Spireites in League Two last season, and also spent time on loan at Conference outfit Stockport County. The duo have featured as Dean Smith's men began the tour with a 3-1 win over Tobago's Stokeley Vale.

Saddlers

That was followed by a dramatic 3-2 victory against Trinidad and Tobago Pro League XI, a game in which Tobagan trialist Gem Gordon netted twice. Former Alvechurch striker Omari Sterling-James, who impressed for the Saddlers reserves last season, has also featured in both games.

Ben George and Kieron Morris were on target in Friday's win over Stokeley Vale, while Gordon also hit the net. Gordon, who plays for Tobagan club Phoenix 1976, was one of five locally-based players who were given their chance to shine in the Saddlers' shirt.

He continued to impress after being handed another opportunity in the second half of the clash against the Pro League XI, sparking a stunning comeback with his brace as Smith's side came from two goals down in the last 20 minutes to win.

Goals from Jomal Williams and Neil Benjamin Jr had earlier put the hosts 2-0 up.

Midfielder Adam Chambers believes the pre-season tour, unprecedented in Walsall history, will be of huge benefit to the season ahead. The Saddlers were due to finish the tour with a game against hosts Central FC and are due back in the UK this week.

SMITH IS EAGER TO FACE HIS OLD TEAM

HEDNESFORD Town Manager Rob Smith has said the one game he is looking forward to in The Pitmen's next season is against his former club AFC Telford.

His side will embark on their Football Conference North campaign after winning promotion and the Keys Park outfit start with an away trip to Stalybridge Celtic on Saturday August 17 before welcoming Leamington for their first home game of the year on the following Tuesday.

The Leamington match is followed by an August Bank Holiday double header against Oxford City at home and Worcester City away but both supporters and manager alike have had their heads turned by the eye-catching Christmas/New Year schedule.

The Pitmen play Smith's former club AFC Telford at Keys Park on Boxing Day then travel to The New Bucks Head on New Year's Day, with an away trip to Leamington sandwiched in between.

They then welcome league rivals from last year North Ferriby United on Saturday January 4.

Smith said: "Obviously for me personally the one game I can't wait for is Telford away. I had four and a half very happy years there and it will be great to go back with Hednesford.

"The feeling around the squad is just one of excitement. These are the types of games that we all want to be involved in.

"This year will be a massive challenge, we will not set any targets but just win as many games as we can. All the lads are still in superb spirits," he added.

Keys Park reopens its doors for a home fixture versus Sutton Coldfield Town this Saturday with Smith upbeat about the atmosphere in the squad and confident he will get what he wants from the pre-season fixtures.

New junior team narrowly misses out on trophy

NORTON Canes U-14s travelled to Wordsley for a pre-season tournament at the weekend and came away winning all four of their league group games and without conceding a single goal.

The feat is all the more remarkable considering the lads only formed in May. However, their luck ran out losing to a strong Kidderminster Harriers team 2-1 to ensure they took away the trophy.

Norton are now looking to recruit a few more experienced players to add to there strong side.

Any youngsters interested in joining should contact the team manager Ryan on 07950 593 082

Cannock 3rds 140-5
Beacon 3rds 139
Cannock won by 5 wickets

BEACON were the visitors as Cannock recorded a comfortable victory that sees them remain top of Staffs Clubs division 3.

Winning the toss and fielding Cannock restricted Beacon to 139 with Kieran Squire 4-41 , Matt Bull 3-22 and Ant Wood 3-42 the wicket takers.

In reply Cannock made rapid progress towards their target on what was a good wicket for batting and despite losing five wickets reached their goal with 20 overs to spare.

Cannock 2nds 195-8
Penn 2nds 196-8
Penn won by 2 wickets.

Batting first Cannock posted a total of 196 for 8. In reply Penn reached 72 for 0 after 12 overs before Connor Shingler 5 for 44 and Dan Wood 3 for 62 pegged them back. With just 2 Penn wickets remaining and 40 runs still needed Cannock looked favourites but the ninth-wicket partnership proved difficult to break and Penn reached their target with 2 overs to go.
